

State Regents Plan to Acquire Downer Land

Would Serve UW-M.
Students Protest
Program Delays

Milwaukee —(U)— Faced by picketing students protesting delays in the expansion of the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee, a special committee of the state board of regents announced Friday a major step in development of the institution.

The committee announced plans to purchase the Milwaukee - Downer seminary, which occupies eight acres of land adjoining the UW-M campus. Seminary buildings include some 90,000 square feet of floor space.

At the same time Regent President Wilbur Renk of Sun Prairie said it may be necessary to operate the school more hours in the day or on two shifts "because if taxes get any higher they will be confiscatory."

Delay Called Probable
Carl Steigler, Oshkosh, chairman of the committee, said the seminary property might not be taken over for several years because Milwaukee-Downer must find a new site before the transfer can be made. He said it was reasonable to assume the transaction would be completed within several months.

The purchase price was not announced.

It was also announced at the meeting that plans have been approved for the construction of science buildings costing $2,100,000 and $1,750,000.

About 100 students picketed the regents as they arrived. The student government earlier had adopted a resolution which said the regents had "not fulfilled the responsibilities vested in them by the legislature."

Overcrowding Cited
Officers of the student government handed to the regents pictures showing overcrowding at UW-M. The students said they wanted to tell the regents, with all due respect, how dissatisfied students were with existing conditions.

Renk told the students he was "a little sad" to learn they think "we haven't done anything." He added:

"It costs the state at UW-M $652 for each student just for the instruction, and you are paying $200. The state is subsidizing each of you for $453 a year. Why? Because you are a special class and therefore you have a special responsibility and should appreciate what the taxpayers have done for you..."

UAW May Pay Gunaca's Costs

Detroit —(U)— The United Auto Workers union, according to Secretary - Treasurer Emil Mazey, likely will bear the cost of John Gunaca's defense against assault charges stemming from the long and bitter UAW strike against the Kohler company of Kohler, Wis.

"I think the UAW will pay Gunaca's defense cost," Mazey said. "He was working for the union at the time he was accused."

The $50,000 bail asked by gdist. Atty. David Weber at Gunaca's arraignment in Sheboygan Friday aroused Mazey.

"That," he said, "shows you what they think in Sheboygan."

Bail finally was set at $7,500 by Municipal Judge Clarence Whiffen.

State's Great Outdoors Feature Every Saturday

If you live in Wisconsin, it is almost inevitable that some phase of outdoor living is going to interest you.

You may be an active participant as a hunter, fisherman or bird-watcher, or merely a passive conservationist—but whatever degree your interest might be, you'll be at home each Saturday in the Post-Crescent's "Wisconsin Outdoor" page. You'll find today's features on Page A7.

And, you don't have to be a rugged man of the woods to find subjects of interest on this page. Women readers will be pleased with frequent special articles on flowers and gardening written by the well-known expert, Clara Hassong.

Clues Sought In Slaying At Kenosha

Kenosha —(U)— After clearing one man, authorities today renewed their search for a lead in the brutal slaying of night club operator Arthur Molinaro, a member of a large and well-known Kenosha family.

He apparently was killed by robbers who escaped with only $100.

Molinaro, 58, died early Friday morning, a few minutes after he had been felled by a hail of .22 caliber pistol shots. There were eight bullet holes in his body and he had a bump on his head.

Shortly after he was pronounced dead at a hospital police at Burlington in neighboring Racine county took into custody a 28-year-old man with a .22 caliber rifle in his car. But the man was cleared Friday night.

Kenosha Police Chief Stanley Haukedahl said the man was able to account for his whereabouts.

The chief added that he felt that Molinaro was shot with a pistol. He said the office in which Molinaro was found was not large enough to permit use of a rifle.

The chief also said "we are now certain" that robbery was the motive. The safe in Molinaro's office was open, a cash register had been rifled and a stone taken from a ring on the victim's finger.

3 Perish in Illinois Fire

Man, Wife and Son
Trapped; St. Louis
Baby Dies in Blaze

Decatur, Ill. —(U)— A man, his wife and their 5-year-old son perished early today in a fire which ripped through their frame home on the northern edge of this central Illinois city. Another son escaped uninjured.

Police said they found the bodies of Leroy A. Knittle, about 47, his wife Mary Louise, about 38, and their son Ronald piled up at the foot of the stairs in the 2-story residence.

A neighbor, Mrs. Doris Frescura, said she tried to alert the family by telephone when she noticed flames. When no one answered the telephone, Mrs. Frescura said she turned in the fire alarm.

Police were unable to explain how David Knittle, 9, escaped. They said he was in a state of shock and unable to give an account of the fire.

Two other sons, Robert, 21, and Richard, 15, were away from home at the time. Earlier, police said witnesses first reported seeing seven bodies, some of them stacked on the porch.

St. Louis —(U)— An 8-month-old baby was killed and five other persons were injured in a fire today.

The blaze was on the third floor of a 3-story brick residence in central St. Louis.

The dead child was not identified. The injured were Mary, 4, and Audrey, 8, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Edwards; Mrs. Edwards' Henrietta Robinson, 10, and a person not identified.

Bright Trial to Reach Jury Today

Atlanta —(U)— The trial of George Bright, 31-year-old Atlanta engineer charged in the bombing of a Jewish temple, was expected to go to the jury today.

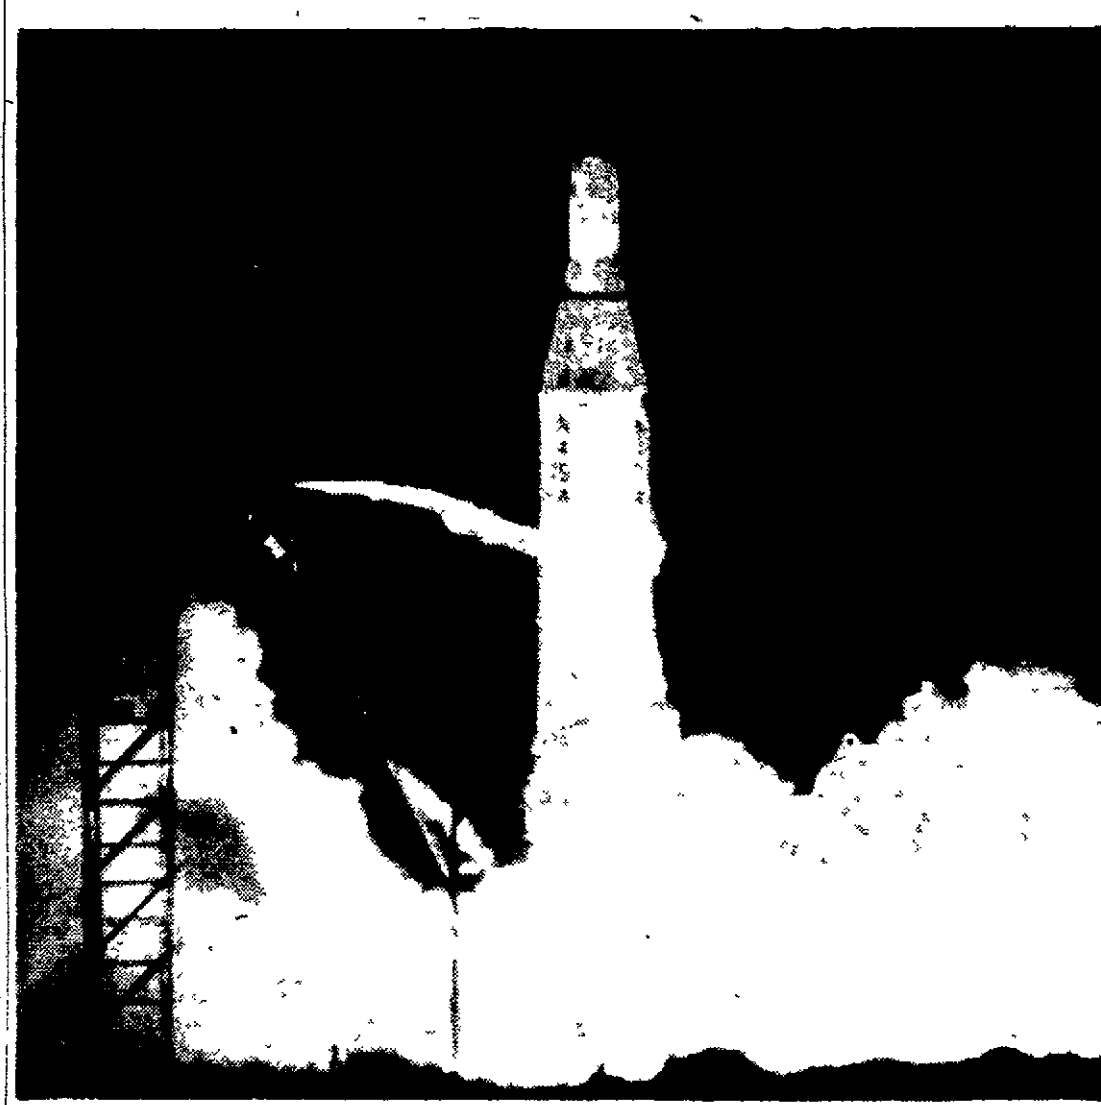

Bright is one of five men to be tried on charges of dynamiting the Jewish temple Oct. 12.

Denies Secrecy in Land Negotiations

Madison —(U)— Gov. Vernon Thomson insisted Friday there was no justification for a complaint charging the state building commission with secrecy in its negotiations. Thomson is chairman of the commission.

The secrecy charge was made Thursday in a petition seeking a temporary injunction to prevent the commission from purchasing a site for a new state office building in La Crosse for $50,000. The petition was presented in circuit court here by Allan Roberts, secretary of the Sparta Industrial Development organization. A hearing on the petition will be held next Thursday.

$2,200 for $1,500,000

Chicago Attorneys Buy Masterpieces

Chicago —(U)— Two attorneys who dabble in art sleuthing and collecting have picked themselves $14 million in masterpieces, says a Vatican art expert.

The lawyers' outlay for the three paintings? Just $2,200. "Extraordinary luck," says the Chicago artist who advised them to take a chance on their purchases. "Just like finding diamonds in the street."

Prof. Amadore Porcella, catalogist for the Vatican gallery of art, pronounced the 16th century paintings authentic yesterday. He described them as: "Christ Carrying the Cross," by Giorgione, "Sacred Conversation," by Giovanni Bellini, and "The Massacre of the Innocents," by Raphael Sanzio.

Didn't Know History
The barristers are Rudolph Vasalle and Paul Delaney. Delaney told a newsmen he bought the 17 by 15 inch Giorgione for about $1,000 from a Chicago dealer who apparently knew little of its history.

The painting, one of the last by Giorgione before his death in 1510, was valued by Porcella at one million dollars. The Venetian artist painted only about one dozen masterpieces.

The other painting owned by Delaney was termed by Porcella "the great lost masterpiece of Bellini." The attorney said he bought it in 1955 for $1,000. The catalogist says it is worth $300,000.

Last July, Vasalle walked out of a Chicago auction house with a small 11 by 16 inch painting for which he paid $170.

That one, says Porcella, is the Raphael. He called it "Raphael at his best — one of his most charming compositions, with qualities of a masterpiece despite its small size." Value? $300,000, declares Porcella.

The Bellini and the Raphael are dated about 1508. Advising the attorneys was Alexander Zlatoff-Mirski, Chicago art restorer and sculptor, who has passed previous tips, though with somewhat lesser results.

Funeral Mass Is Said at a Chicago Armory for 27 grade school children who perished in the fire at Our Lady of the Angels Catholic school. Parents and immediate families of the children are at the left. Eighty-eight pupils and three nuns died in the blaze.

Charge Father In Death of 7-Month-Old

Wayne Tessen, 25,
Faces Manslaughter
Count in Waupaca

Waupaca — Wayne Tessen, 25, route 3, Waupaca, will be charged with manslaughter in the death of his 7-month-old daughter, Deborah, Sheriff Floyd Taylor said today.

The child died of a skull fracture as a result of a blow above the right ear struck by Tessen about 1 a. m. Thursday. The child died about four hours later, according to Dr. Sam Salan, county coroner.

Taylor said Tessen told him that he struck Deborah in a fit of anger because the child was crying. She had been suffering from a cold.

Called Doctor
Later Thursday morning, when he was about to leave the house, his wife noticed something was wrong with the child and Tessen called the family physician who pronounced the child dead and called the coroner.

The doctor noticed a bruise above the ear and refused to sign the death certificate. Dr. Salan ordered an autopsy.

According to Dist. Atty. Gerald K. Anderson, Tessen will be arraigned today before Justice of the Peace George Whalen.

The Tessens have a son, 11 years old. They reside on a farm about four miles southeast of Waupaca on Highway 10.

The Bammel Funeral home, Waupaca, is in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Judge Refuses to Give Up Records

Montgomery, Ala. —(U)— Circuit Judge George Wallace has challenged the civil rights commission to try to force him to surrender voting records in his custody.

The Clayton, Ala., jurist who was runner-up for the Democratic nomination as governor last summer, threatened to jail any commission agent who tries to take over impounded voter records.

The registration records of Barbour and Bullock counties were impounded for grand jury investigations.

"They are not going to get the records," Wallace, a pug-nacious one-time Golden Gloves boxing champion, declared. "And if any agent of the civil rights commission comes down here to get them, they will be locked up."

First Stage Cuts Out Too Early, Fails to Give Needed Velocity

Cape Canaveral, Fla., —(U)— The army fired its first space probe thousands of miles into the sky today but hours later calculated that the gold-plated vehicle would travel barely a quarter of the distance to the moon.

Pioneer III had been equipped to send back a signal when it passed the moon. Had it been completely successful it would have gone on to slip into orbit around the sun.

Instead, the Jupiter rocket, that was the first stage of the launching vehicle cut out 3.7 seconds prematurely, and the probe failed by about 1,000 miles an hour to attain the 24,900 miles an hour velocity required to reach or go past the moon.

The army's jet propulsion laboratory built the instrument filled space cone, a 13-pound forerunner to future satellites. It was only 23 inches high, weighed 13 pounds, and was 10 inches in diameter at the base.

Dr. William Pickering, director of JPL, estimated that the cone would reach a peak altitude of 64,830 miles about 3 p. m. Sunday.

This would be 14,000 miles less than the distance attained by Pioneer I, launched by the air force Oct. 11.

About 48-Hour Flight
No one was wishing the army bad luck, but since its first space shot was less than perfect some air force officers could not conceal their relief that Pioneer III had not outperformed Pioneer I.

"If Werner von Braun had put his satellite around the sun the first try, after three air force failures to reach the moon, there would have been no living with him," one officer commented.

Von Braun, head of the army missile science team, estimated in Washington that Pioneer III would remain in flight for about 38 hours from the 12:45 a. m. launching here today. Pioneer I stayed aloft for 44 hours.

Von Braun guessed that the probe would re-enter the earth's atmosphere near Madagascar off the east coast of Africa Sunday afternoon, and he said it would disintegrate from air friction.

Faulty Valve Setting
"No solid parts will hit the earth," Von Braun said. Von Braun blamed a faulty setting of a small fuel valve in the first stage for the improper mixture that produced the shortened burning time.

At Cape Canaveral Dr. John Froehlich, an associate of Pickering at JPL, said the next army space launching vehicle would have to have some "improvements," including better propellants.

Pickering said that while the army attempt was not 100 per cent successful, it was very close to success from a scientific point of view.

Von Braun called it a "90 per cent successful launching."

Eight hours after the launching Pioneer III was more than 42,000 miles away from the earth but had dropped to a velocity of 3,718 miles an hour.

Efforts Continue To Free Tanker

Sturgeon Bay —(U)— The tanker Michigan remained stuck on a Green Bay mud bank today. The cargo shifting operation in a move to float her free was continuing.

A second tanker was standing by and some of the Michigan's 46,000 barrels of fuel oil and gasoline was being transferred to the second vessel in order to lighten the load. The transfer began Friday.

The Texas company, owner of the Michigan, announced Friday that when free the vessel will turn back to Milwaukee, instead of going on to Green Bay, her original destination. Another tanker carrying a replacement cargo was dispatched to Green Bay.

2 Pharmacists Fined For Cheap Tablets in Costly Prescriptions

New York —(U)— Two Long Island pharmacists have been fined $1,500 each and placed on three years' probation for using penny tablets instead of expensive antibiotics in preparing prescriptions.

Brought in for sentencing yesterday in Brooklyn federal court were Charles P. Greenberg, 30, of Plainview, N.Y., and Marvin V. Goldstein, 29, of East Meadow, N.Y. The pair operated a pharmacy in Bethpage, N.Y.

Judge Leo F. Rayfield sentenced each man to one-year prison terms, then fined them and put them on probation.

Greenberg and Goldstein pleaded guilty last Nov. 10 to using "cold tablets" costing them one cent apiece to fill a prescription by a physician for antibiotic tablets costing 41 cents each.

Judge Rayfield told the men they had committed a "most reprehensible and heinous crime," putting "just for money ahead of the health and welfare of the community."

Green Bay Boy Falls Through Ice, Drowns

Green Bay —(U)— Darrell Watruba, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Watruba, drowned Friday afternoon when he fell through the ice of the Fox river while playing with another child near the Little Rapids pulp mill.

Lutheran Women Fete Pastor At Annual Christmas Party

Kaukauna — Members of the Women's Aid society of Trinity Lutheran church gave the pastor, the Rev. Paul Oehlert, a Christmas gift at the annual Christmas party Thursday.

The gift was presented as the Rev. Mr. Oehlert observed his 50th year of ordination into the ministry earlier this year. Mrs. Herman Keil made the presentation and recited a poem, composed by herself, which expressed sentiments of the society.

The party opened with a

Skat Tourney to Be Held Sunday By Eagle Aerie

Kaukauna — Kaukauna Eagle Aerie 1418 will sponsor a public skat tournament at the Island street clubrooms at 7 p.m. Sunday afternoon and a public card party at 8 p.m. in the evening.

Schlafkopf will be the main game played in the evening but guests also will be permitted to vie for awards in other games, according to Al Newlin, chairman.

The annual Christmas party for members and their wives or friends will be held Thursday evening. A business meeting at 8:15 p.m. will precede the party. Past presidents and officers are asked to attend the business session as well as members, if possible, according to Clarence Sullivan, president.

A raccoon feed will be held after the meeting under the direction of Sylvester Van-evenhoven. Highlighting the party will be the presentation of the Grand Aerie "Bell Ringer" award by Harry Maxinsberger, state chaplain from Fond du Lac.

Verkuilen Scores 22, but Chuter Freshmen Lose

Little Chute — Menasha High freshmen copped a 39 to 24 victory over St. John frosh here Thursday afternoon.

It was the first game of the season for the Chuters and only Joe Verkuilen proved an effective offensive threat as he scored 22 of the 24 points. Menasha had a 12 to 8 lead after the first quarter and then rolled in nine points in the second frame while the Chuters went scoreless.

Verkuilen had four field goals in the opening quarter, three in the third and four more in the final one. Ken Diederich scored the only other field goals for the Chuters. Menasha was led by Orno with eight points. Nine players got into the scoring column.

Union Reelects 2 Men Accused of Misusing Its Funds
Philadelphia—Raymond Cohen and Joseph E. Grace, accused by the senate racketeering committee of misappropriating about a quarter of a million dollars of teamster union funds, have been reelected to office in the powerful, 14,000-member Local 107.

Cohen, secretary-treasurer and actual boss of the local, was reelected to his second 5-year term, by a vote of 8,261 to 1,532, it was disclosed early today.

Grace, president of the local since 1933, defeated two opponents. He had 8,136 votes against a combined opposition of 1,516.

Before the racketeering committee this summer, Cohen pleaded the fifth amendment and refused to answer questions concerning his handling of the local's finances.

Cohen is also a trustee of the International Teamsters union and a supporter of President James Hoffa.

See Fox Waterway As Game Paradise

Conservation Chief Asserts His Department's Main Interest in Transfer Is Wildlife Prosperity

BY JOHN WYNGAARD Post-Crescent Staff Writer Madison — The state conservation department's chief interest in the management of the upper Fox river waterway system which is in the process of being transferred to its ownership and control by the federal government is the prosperity of the fish and other wildlife in the area. Lester P. Voigt, director of the department, explained here that the conservation ad-

See End to Trout Eggs This May be Last Year for Removing Them From Superior

This may be the last year in which it will be possible to take lake trout eggs from Lake Superior because of depredations of the sea lamprey. Even Bodin, Bayfield, a member of the Wisconsin commercial fishery advisory committee, has informed his fellow members of the committee. Forty-five quarts of eggs are needed for the state's production of yearling trout. Two inland waters, Trout lake and Green lake, have substantial populations of lake trout. The big hope of controlling the lamprey is a larvicide that kills the spawn of lamprey deposited in streams and nothing else. The chemical is in short supply and is expensive. It costs $400 a pound and it costs $2,000 to $5,000 to treat a stream. On the question of alternative commercial species, the committee heard a federal report on the slow growth of white fish in the Apostle Island area where these fish take seven to eight years to reach the legal length of 17 inches. Many fish are held to die before reaching the legal limit. No action was recommended.

Don Witt, Left, and Gustav Sack, Jr., are shown above with two deer and three bear killed by their hunting party during the deer season. Four bucks also were killed by the group. Other members of the party were Dick Sack, Phil Burmeister, John Jansen, Gustav Sack, Sr., G. W. Rousseau, Frank Luepke, Ted Peterson and Charles Luepke.

Canada to Seek More U. S. Tourist Trade

Chicago, Ill. — A stronger Canadian bid for the American tourist trade was one of the main themes of discussion at the first Canadian-American trade conference under the sponsorship of the Chicago Association of Commerce. Panelists and other speakers repeatedly cited the possibilities of luring more American tourist dollars across the border as a means of cutting down the Canadian trade imbalance with the United States which is one of the chief worries of the Canadian national government.

Effect Detected Any additional Canadian effort to attract tourists from Chicago and the populous midwest would be adverse to the interests of the big and growing tourist catering industry of Wisconsin.

"Tourists are our most important export and your most important import," Thomas H. Coulter, head of the Chicago Association of Commerce, told the Canadian delegates at the conference. He added that the American tourist tends to be a free spender and is especially attracted to luxury goods with a "foreign" label that can be brought back home duty free.

State Will Set Up Tourist Unit

Committee Will Help Advertise Wisconsin To Vacationers

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau Madison — Yielding to the requests of tourist industry interests, the Wisconsin conservation commission has established a tourist industry and recreation committee as part of its permanent advisory organization.

A temporary committee to consult with the commission on tourist promotion and development policies was set up about two years ago.

The permanent committee will rank with others drawn from the body politic on fish, game, water and forestry regulation and management.

Advertising Advice The new committee will advise particularly on the extensive advertising program operated by the conservation department as a means of attracting tourist trade.

Another proposed project is a long-range analysis of the tourist industry which would be undertaken by the University of Wisconsin School of Commerce.

Committee members would be designated by such organizations as the American Automobile association, the Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce, the Resort association of Wisconsin, the Wisconsin Restaurant association, the Wisconsin State Hotel association, the Wisconsin Motel association, the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture, and possibly others.

Aside From Loss of Life or property, one of the most tragic aspects of a brush fire is its effect on wild animals. This picture taken during this week's fire at Malibu, Calif., shows a pair of deer fleeing the advancing flames. The fire, if it fails to kill the animal outright, will take away its home, its food and, in the end, destroy the animal.

Wall-Eye Pike Will Remain Legal Game

Conservation Commission Bows to Clamor for Year-Around Fishing

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The wall-eyed pike will continue to be legal game in upper Wisconsin through the ice in winter as well as in the open water of summer.

A clamor of protest from residents of northern Wisconsin counties led the state conservation commission to beat a hasty retreat from a proposal to close the wall-eyed pike to winter fishing in the northland, as a means of preventing possibly excessive exploitation that might ultimately affect adversely the summer tourist fishing business.

Want Fishing At a series of hearings the northerners made it clear that they don't propose to give up their winter pike fishing, whatever may be said about the pleasures of the summer visitor.

The proposal had been to close pike fishing on December 31 on a line north of Highway 64, the traditional dividing line for conservation regulation purposes between "northern" and "southern" Wisconsin.

Meanwhile the commission deferred a decision on another proposal to modify fishing regulations in the northland.

A plan to remove the bag limit for perch in the northern counties, as it has already been repealed in the southern half of the state, will be submitted to the spring county meetings of the Wisconsin Conservation Congress for reactions before it is formally voted upon by the commission, members decided.

The proposal is expected to be endorsed, but the commissioners preferred to submit it to public review and discussion before enacting it into law. The southern rule of unlimited perch fishing has had general public approval.

Whitefish and Cisco Legal When Taken in Licensed Dip Nets

This is the season of the year when it is legal to take whitefish and cisco with dip nets and seines that are licensed by the conservation department for all inland waters except Lake Lucerne in Forest county.

The season runs to Jan. 15 and the possession limit is 25 pounds and one fish. Seines may not exceed 75 feet in length with a mesh stretch of not more than two inches. The nets cannot have a depth of more than six feet. Dip nets cannot be more than eight feet in diameter or eight feet square.

Install New Director of UNESCO Activities

Paris (AP) — Dr. Vittorino Veronese of Italy has been installed as the fourth director general of UNESCO — the United Nations educational, scientific and cultural organization. He pledged the resources of the organization to help the 81 member states in space age developments.

Dr. Luther Evans, former U.S. librarian of congress, turned the office over to Veronese for a 6-year term at the end of the organization's 10th general conference.

Study Program to Save Trout Water

Ambitious Plan Calls for Purchase Of 10,000 Acres in Central Region

An ambitious plan to acquire at least 10,000 acres of land to protect and preserve for public use some of the famous trout waters in central Wisconsin has been advanced by the state fisheries division.

The central Wisconsin streams are widely known and used by trout enthusiasts of the Fox river valley and vicinity, and are among the best and most productive in the whole state.

The land acquisition plan has been outlined in tentative terms, and is now before the state conservation commission for study. Actual land buying, if approved, may require a decade or more. The state agency hopes to use allocations of federal funds to help in financing the relatively expensive plans.

Acquisition Goals The listing by Dr. E. W. Schneberger, chief of the fisheries service, includes these desirable acquisition goals:

About 5,169 acres along 13 miles of Chafee creek in Marquette and Waushara counties, and 15 acres on a lake, to assure public access and the protection of the waterway and numerous springs, at an estimated cost of $147,165.

About 3,400 acres along the south branch of Wedde creek, in Marquette and Waushara counties, to control 10 miles of stream and 60 acres of lake, at an estimated cost of $103,000.

Waushara County About 1,400 acre along Soules creek in Waushara county, for the protection and preservation of the stream for trout production, and the development of a public hunting grounds, at a cost of about $51,000.

The division is also now negotiating for the purchase of about 110 acres containing the headquarters of famed Meehan springs in Waushara county, and for the enlargement of the Plover river public hunting and fishing grounds in Marathon county. The state now leases and owns about 700 acres along the river. The department wants to purchase another 10 miles of the stream, which is regarded as one of the best in northeastern Wisconsin.

Fur Trapping Continues To Decline

Tag Sales Drop by 25 Per Cent in State, Report Shows

Wild fur trapping continues to decline in popularity among Wisconsin countrymen, although the last trapping season showed some gains in fur harvest.

The conservation department reports a 25 per cent decline in trapping tag sales during the last winter, and a decline in trapping licenses of almost seven per cent.

There were also reductions in the harvests of the major fur bearing animals, notably muskrat and mink, but substantial increases in others, including otter and beaver. The department has been trying to encourage a reduction in the numbers of beaver, through liberalized seasons and bag limits, during a period of several years.

Muskrats Down

Muskrat taken numbered 538,000 last fall and winter, a decline of about three per cent from the previous year, while the harvest of 34,025 wild mink represented a reduction of 11 per cent.

But the two species accounted for the bulk of the value of the wild fur crop, with $377,000 and $351,000, respectively. Over the years the muskrat has been the staple in Wisconsin wild fur harvesting. Market conditions affect the crop substantially, as they encourage or discourage trappers from establishing trappings.

According to a five year harvest tabulation, the 10 leading muskrat producing counties of the state, in order, are Dodge, Buffalo, Grant, Burnett, LaCrosse, Polk, Vernon, Barron, Dane and Crawford.

Following in order are Vilas, Columbia, Washburn, Oconto, Chippewa, Brown, Oneida, Winnebago, Marinette and Waupaca.

Pick Christensen Rifle Club's New Project Officer

Appleton's Pete Christensen will be the Appleton Rifle and Pistol club's only new officer for 1959.

Christensen was elected project officer — succeeding Appleton's Ray Michler — during the club's latest meeting.

Reelected were: Wilbur Hirte, president; Sherman Kapp, vice president; Walter Pommerenke, treasurer; James Gerrits, secretary; and Walter Molda, range officer. All but Kaukauna's Gerrits are from Appleton.

Picked as directors were Cliff Christofferson and Walter Sager, Appleton.

The program at the organization's clubhouse (west of Appleton, off Highway 76) also included the showing of Chippewa, Brown, Oneida, Baldwin and movies by Karl Baldwin and F. John Barlow of their recent Alaskan hunt.

Too Many Counties

In an article appearing on this page today Sen. Richard L. Neuberger describes the difficulties he encountered when, as a member of the Oregon State Senate, he attempted to take a small step toward consolidating some of Oregon's counties which had been created in the days of the covered wagon and had become a burden on the taxpayers in this era of high-speed travel by auto, train and plane.

Our readers may wonder why we reached way back to 1952 to find this article. The answer is that in considering the problems of Wisconsin's county system we remembered that Sen. Neuberger had once written such an article, so we wrote him and he courteously told us where to find it.

The situation in Oregon as described by Sen. Neuberger seems to us very similar to the problem we face in Wisconsin today. This state has 71 counties, practically all of which were created before the turn of the century and many of which were laid out before the automobile was invented, much less the airplane. Each of these 71 counties, of course, has its courthouse filled with officials such as a sheriff, district attorney, register of deeds, clerk, farm agent and the like. Each has a highway department, some of which have invested large sums of money in equipment even though another county highway department 30 or 40 miles away owns duplicate equipment. Some of these counties have large populations and are being called on to provide more and more services to their citizens, others have tiny populations and are called upon to do little, yet must maintain a staff of officers as required by constitutional provisions written many decades ago. More than 2,500 men and women serve on county boards in Wisconsin, all drawing some kind of compensation at the expense of the taxpayers.

Wisconsin's counties range in area from Ozaukee with 235 square miles to Marathon with 1,584 square miles, in population from Florence with 3,756 to Milwaukee with 871,047 (1950 census). Six counties in 1950 had less than 10,000 population, 19 had populations between 10,000

Welcome to Wisconsin, Mr. Gunaca!

Not long ago the Post-Crescent published an editorial in which it suggested that Gov.-elect Nelson might be able to do something toward having John Gunaca returned to Wisconsin for trial. Gunaca is wanted for trial on assault charges in connection with the 4½-year-old strike at the Kohler Company in Kohler, Wisconsin.

A few days after that editorial appeared an editorial writer for the Capital Times in Madison wrote a lengthy article ridiculing the Post-Crescent for having the effrontery to call upon Gov.-elect Nelson for any action in this matter. The article was extremely intemperate and went to such lengths of exaggeration as to make the writer appear absurd. It was a real smart aleck piece.

A few days later Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan announced that he issued a warrant for the return of John Gunaca to Wisconsin for trial.

We do not know that the events are related and neither are we sure that they are unrelated. Gov. Williams said he came

Another Tie Shattered

Something's brewing in the beer industry.

In London the other day an official of the British Brewers' society uncapped and poured forth the news of a new process called continuous fermentation which, it was said, will do great things for malt merchants.

The process, evidently, will speed the normally slow production of beer to a point where the suds will flow from the vats at a rate six times faster than at present.

We have no way of knowing whether a greater rate of consumption prodded the beer makers into turning to science to speed production of their product. We can remember no time, save during the war and strikes, when a man, dry of throat, could not obtain a bottle of his favorite brew simply because the barkeep was unable to obtain it.

Congress May Hesitate On Ike's Gas Tax Plan

From The Baltimore Sun

There is no way of knowing how congress would receive President Eisenhower's reported plan to urge an increase in the federal tax on gasoline. Probably there would be some initial hesitation. The automobile driver is already heavily burdened with federal and local gas taxes and other levies on motor cars and trucks. But perhaps the senators and representatives would rather accept the plan than move along either of the two other courses which are about the only ones left open. One of these courses would necessitate an appropriation from general funds to help finance the multi-billion-dollar federal road-building program with its emphasis on the 41,000 mile network of interstate superhighways. This course would not draw many pilgrims because of the $12 billion dollar budget deficit now in prospect. In short, to dip into general funds for road work would seem to be out. The second open course might be even more unattractive to our congressmen. This would lead to a slowing up of progress on the huge road building plan and bring a balance between the revenue produced by present federal taxes on motorists and projects under contract. But here opposition pressure could certainly build up among state and local governments which, at federal request and federal beguiling, have drafted, started and scheduled highway programs. So, congress might be willing to go along with the higher federal gas tax plan. But the motoring public might very well be willing to avoid the increase, avoid a dip into general funds and accept a slow-up in road building.

No Need for Multiplicity of County Governments

Neuberger Cites Oregon As Example

By Richard L. Neuberger

Economy, like charity, ought to begin at home. I was sitting in the Oregon state senate as the reading clerk droned off a series of bills raising the salaries of elective officials in practically all the 36 counties of Oregon.

I thumbed through a volume of Oregon history . . . One significant fact struck me forcefully. Eighteen of the counties had been formed before Oregon was admitted to the Union in 1859. They precede statehood. Nearly all the other counties dated from prior to the start of the Twentieth century.

What did this mean? It meant, in a nutshell, that these 36 separate court-houses, all supported with taxpayers' hard-earned funds, had originated in an era when there was not one internal-combustion engine in Oregon. The automobile was unheard of. When most of the counties were formed, the golden spike had yet to be driven on the railroads across the continent. The Wright brothers had not been born. The sole transportation in Oregon was on horseback or wagon or on sturdy legs and moccasins.

This article appeared originally in the November, 1952, issue of the National Municipal Review. The author, then a member of the Oregon State Senate, now is a United States senator from Oregon.

Needed Then

Unquestionably, many courthouses were necessary when it required two rugged days in the saddle to get from Pendleton to La Grande. Were they still required when the Union Pacific streamliner made this distance in running time of two hours and 10 minutes?

I studied the county-salary bills on which we were voting. Here was the Gilliam county measure. The increases for individual county officials were not overly large. Yet the operation of the new salary schedule would cost every man, woman and child in Gilliam county approximately $5.75 a year. This stemmed, of course, from the fact that the population of Gilliam county numbered only 2,817.

Salary increases for county functionaries in the larger counties of Oregon were not quite so oppressive on individual citizens. When we were passing on the Lane county salary bill, I did a little quick figuring. County salaries in this populous county of 125,776 people would cost every man, woman and child only 24 cents because for many it will mean the shattering of one more tie with the past.

Here, many of us believed, was a manufacturing enterprise on which modern science could not improve. This feeling may have been enhanced by many a well-timed promotional piece but, nonetheless, the brewer's art still was something to be identified with history.

The picture of a recipe for a rich, amber brew, born in the deep, dank recesses of a castle in the Alps, being handed down from father to son through the years, was a familiar one.

It gave a man a link with the past even as he sat in a leather-lined, mirrored emporium or in the comfortable confines of his home.

But traditions, like records, it appears, are made to be broken.

There remains now only for science to wring the last vestige of "wetness" from the dry martini.

Wisconsin Has 71 Counties ranging in population from Florence with less than 4,000 to Milwaukee with over 800,000; in area from Ozaukee with 235 square miles to Marathon with 1,584. (See editorial, "Too Many Counties," on this page).

annually — a mere 4 per cent of the financial burden for this particular expense in Gilliam county.

Too Many Counties

I decided that other states must have the same load, a load which originates in the fact that there are too many counties.

County government is that realm which Brand Whitlock, noted novelist and Woodrow Wilson's wartime minister to Belgium, once called "the dark continent of government in the United States." And the W. M. Kiplinger News Agency in Washington, D. C., has added:

"Those old-fashioned county governments, with their courthouse squares and their county-seat business, are pretty far behind the times. Their systems are cumbersome, archaic and very expensive. The county areas are too small to be economical. They were established years ago to meet the needs of horseback travel . . . There are too many counties. In the interest of efficiency, they ought to consolidate and save their taxpayers' money."

With these ideas in mind, I introduced Senate Bill No. 257. It provided for consolidation of four comparatively small counties in eastern Oregon with Umatilla county, the county seat to remain at Pendleton.

These were the four counties, with their populations: Sherman, 2,271; Gilliam, 2,817; Wheeler, 3,313; Morrow, 4,783.

In other words, none of these counties seemed to have very many more inhabitants than one or two large blocks of apartment houses in Portland. If they had been united with Umatilla county, it would have made one contiguous land unit along the Columbia river . . .

Average Size

The new consolidated county would have had a population of 54,887. Its area would have totaled 9,038 square miles. It would have been the third largest county in area . . . in population it would have ranked seventh. This appeared to make it fairly average and typical, in my opinion.

Best of all, four separate county governmental units would have been abolished at one fell stroke, with their myriad of clerks, sheriffs, deputies, jailers, auditors, commissioners and other plenipotentiaries. To make sure that the decision would be democratic and fair, my bill provided that the issue should be submitted to a vote of the people of Oregon after its passage by the legislature.

All at once I learned that economy was easier to urge upon folks in Washington, D. C., than to put into actual hard practice in Oregon.

The Protest

A terrific protest ensued. It came not only from courthouses in the four counties involved but from many other counties. These counties seemed to fear they might be next, if consolidation took place in the eastern Oregon area. As a result, the Senate did not even take my bill seriously. It was regarded as something of a joke. Amidst many laughs, it was amended to combine Multnomah and Columbia counties with the courthouse at Scappoose. Then Bill 257 was buried in committee . . .

The Oregon legislature had memorialized Congress to put into effect the Hoover report, consolidating superfluous and overlapping federal agencies. This laudable goal could be urged on the bureaucrats in the District of Columbia but the unification of superfluous and overlapping Oregon counties seemed to be a different question. It always is simpler to tell the other fellow to swallow a bitter pill than to take it yourself!

Must Sacrifice

I can understand and sympathize with the feelings of people in Gilliam and Morrow counties, for example, who might not want to see their own particular county merged into a larger Umatilla county. Yet how are we going to reduce the cost of government unless someone, somehow, somewhere, is willing to make sacrifices?

Look at a map of Oregon today. Note how close together are the county seats. Albany is barely 10 miles from Corvallis, Oregon City and Portland are a mere 13 miles apart. Hillsboro lies only 21 miles from Portland. A drive of half an hour takes a citizen from Salem to Albany. In sparsely settled eastern Oregon, high-speed automobile roads now connect communities which were linked only over rugged backwoods trails when counties first came into existence.

Thirty-six miles lie between Oregon City, seat of Clackamas county, and Salem, seat of Marion county. These two counties were created in 1843. Think a moment

Looking Backward

Church to Hold Sing On Sunday

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Dec. 6, 1879.

Instead of the usual preaching service at the M. E. church tomorrow, the pastor has arranged to have the audience sing themselves all the way from the "City of Destruction" to the "Celestial City."

25 YEARS AGO

Saturday, Dec. 2, 1933

Mrs. Clara Miller was unanimously reelected president of Relief Corps, Auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, for her third term. Other officers were Mrs. Adora Hauert, senior vice president, Mrs. Blanche Brinkman, junior vice president, Mrs. Lydia Bauer, treasurer, Mrs. Mittie Harp, Kimberly, chaplain, Mrs. Elizabeth Hoffman, conductor, Mrs. Ernestine Sonntag, guard.

Mrs. Hessie Petterman was elected president of the auxiliary to Spanish War Veterans at the meeting.

Margaret Dahms was elected noble grand of Betty Rebekah lodge. Edna Mueller was elected vice grand, Elizabeth Johnson, secretary, and Sue Floyd, treasurer.

10 YEARS AGO

Saturday, Dec. 4, 1948

Election of new officers for the Appleton High school Latin club resulted in the selection of Doris Leininger as secretary, Tom Lemmons as treasurer and Sherry Ohman as program chairman.

Induction into the "ancient order of oldsters" was scheduled for employees of the Appleton Wire Works following a dinner that night. Two men were to be honored for 50 years of service. They were Henry G. Meyer and Carl A. Lange.

Miss Ednamae Harris, Neenah, was named chairman for the Overseas Teachers Relief fund drive in Neenah High school.

Sherry Ohman was elected president of Wing Scout Troop 2. Nita Hornbeck was vice president, Myrtle Ellefson, secretary, and Alice Gengler, treasurer.

of conditions in that area. It was more than a full day's ride between the two settlements. Indians still were hostile. The Whitman massacre was yet to occur. Sixteen years would elapse before statehood for Oregon.

More Efficient

The distance between Salem and Oregon City can be negotiated at this time in approximately 45 minutes by train or automobile, or in 15 minutes as the commercial airplanes fly. But the same counties remain, those counties which were organized before the railroads spanned the Rockies or before the original creaking Model-T was even a gleam in the pale blue eye of Henry Ford.

I stress these changes in technology because a multitude of counties was required in the frontier period to serve people who were separated by nearly impassable solitudes. The requirement no longer exists.

Nor is economy the sole goal in suggesting that the myriad of counties be pared in number. Efficient government is a parallel objective. The National Municipal League, one of America's outstanding organizations in the field of governmental research, has pointed out that larger county units make for better public service and more responsible administration.

Oregon is not the only state, by any means, where counties should be consolidated on a wholesale basis. The state of Washington, smaller in area, has three more counties than Oregon. And, if Oregon's 36 counties seem an unbearable load, ponder on the 254 counties in Texas and the 101 counties in North Carolina!

The Public Pulse

Pro-Integration Sentiment Gains Outside South

BY ELMO ROPER AND ASSOCIATES

AN increased impatience with the pace of school integration — outside the south — has followed this fall's increased resistance to taking that step inside the south. Southern measures to prevent racially mixed schools have not prevailed in the federal courts, and in the last few months the "gradualist" (or several years hence) approach has lost adherents, while immediate integration has gained them throughout most of the country. But the south shows only a small move in the direction of accepting integration. Here are the answers of a nationwide cross section recently interviewed on the subject:

There have been a number of different viewpoints about the supreme court decision against separate schools for Negro students. Which of these comes closest to expressing your personal opinion?

	South Fall 1958 70%	South Summer 1958 70%	Rest of Country Fall 1958 70%	Rest of Country Summer 1958 70%
Negroes should go to the same schools that white children do, and separate schools should be done away with immediately in all parts of the country	9	8	27	15
Every attempt should be made to do away with separate schools for Negro students, but more time should be given to work out the problems	15	11	27	31
The time may come when Negro and white children should go to the same schools, but it will take several years more in some places and it shouldn't be pushed	21	21	26	33
The supreme court decision was a mistake and white and Negro students should never be forced to go to the same schools	32	32	17	18
Express no opinion	3	8	3	3

Before this fall's events, which have included school closings in Arkansas and Virginia, the attempt to substitute private education for public, and an occasional bombing, the gradualist approach to integration was gaining in the country as a whole. Today's figures suggest that a good many people have now become convinced that when the South says "gradually" it means "never" on the issue of public school integration.

This change in sentiment was evident in all the non-southern regions of the country but most of all in the northeast, where at the present time 33 per cent want immediate school integration. Both whites and Negroes expressed increased urgency about the problem, although Negroes were and are more desirous of speedy integration than whites — in all parts of the country. The same trend toward favoring faster integration was noted among Democrats and Republicans, and at all economic and educational levels.

It should be noted that the strongest opposition to integrated schooling comes from those with the least schooling themselves. It is, of course, true that people with the least education are, as a group, not very prosperous and therefore are most likely to see their children faced with the actuality of integrated schools, because of where they live, and because they are least able to choose the alternative of private schools. But this does not seem to be the main cause of their opposition to integration, because at every economic level, it is the less educated who are firmest against this educational change. As this country's educational level rises, then, opposition to racially integrated schools is likely to shrink.

In the south, however, there has been little weakening of determination to preserve the segregated schools. White opponents of integration have not increased, but they were already in the vast majority anyway.

Southern Negroes, on the other hand, apparently discouraged by the form and intensity of white opposition, show a smaller majority in favor of speedy integration than they did a few months ago.

On the question of assuring Negro children the full educational opportunity on which other democratic opportunity depends, the courts and a majority of citizens in most parts of the country are saying in effect, "The time has come." But to a majority of white Southerners, threatened by a disruption in their traditional segregated way of life, the time has not come, and never should. A region is pitted against a nation, and age-old customs are at stake. In such a climate, change cannot come easily.

Valders	83	Chilton	62
Elkhart Lake	55	Plymouth	49
Kohler	71	Brillion	67

New Holstein — Valders tripped Chilton, 83-62, Friday night to remain unbeaten in 1957-8 Eastern Wisconsin conference play. Elkhart Lake stayed a half game in front of Valders with its third straight triumph, a 55-49 success over Plymouth.

Kohler shaded Brillion, 71-67, and New Holstein nudged Kiel, 53-51, in other games.

Within 2 Points
Brillion was within two points of Kohler (69-67) with 15 seconds to go but Kohler's Dick Schmelling whipped in a game-icing basket. The Lions had opened up a big 18-11 first quarter lead but Kohler chopped its deficit to 30-29 at halftime. The Blue Bombers and Lions were tied at 48-all going into the final period but Kohler quickly went in front to stay.

August Hovevar collected 19 points for the winners before he fouled out. Center Bob Hanson of Brillion tallied 25 for the losers, pitching in 11 baskets.

Valders was on top at each of the quarter rests in rolling up its decisive win over Chilton. The winners sprinted to a heavy 26-13 first quarter lead.

Paul Isselman, a guard, hit 18 for Valders.

Versatile School Books Get Test At New London

New London — An experiment in books for grade school classes is being conducted by Louis Sheahan, Lincoln school principal, and Mrs. J. N. Wells, elementary supervisor.

The books contain the same information, but are written for two levels of pupils, one simpler English than the other.

Miss Dorothy A. Anderson, representing the publishers, Lyons and Carnahan, demonstrated the books before sample groups of pupils and Lincoln and McKinley school teachers.

Sheahan explained it is the first time in New London grade school history that an attempt was made to fit books more accurately to pupils. He explained there is a need for books written in this manner to give the slower pupils an easier chance to learn contents of books.

While the teachers were listening to the demonstrations, a group of high school students, including Sandy Feurig, Kathy Algiers, Ann Pfeifer, Sue Freiburger, Nancy Hutchison, Brad Hales and Mary Lou Stern, took over the duties of the teachers.

$70,000 Factory Permit Issued

Clintonville — One permit for $70,000 for a factory building was issued during November, reports Building Inspector Basile Arvey.

The permit was issued to the L and A Syndicate, Milwaukee, and signed by Donald Vandercook, Milwaukee contractor, for construction of a factory building to house the Railway Equipment corporation. The building will be 120 by 160 feet and of cement block and steel construction. Construction of the building is underway.

Cheese, Butter Plant Purchased By Fremont Man

Marion — Eldred Beil of Fremont has bought the Marion Cheese and Butter factory from William Malueg. Malueg bought the cheese factory from Walter Bock and Jay Halpou in 1951.

Charles Malueg, who has been with his father in the business, will continue to work for Beil.

Fire Unit Will Hold Fish Contest

Fremont — A fishing contest will be sponsored by the Tustin volunteer fire department on Dec. 28. The contest will begin about 8 a. m. and end about 3 p. m.

Predate ticket sales are being conducted by members of the fire department and the business places. They may also be purchased at the drive in to the fishing area which will be located on the shores of Lake Poygan in Tustin.

Prizes will range from the grand prize of a boat, and a motor to smaller items. Awards will be given to the oldest and youngest fisherman, the largest family, those coming from the farthest distance, and persons with catches that qualify.

There will be two registration shanties on the lake and a coffee stand.

Chris Bureta, Norman Bucholtz, and James Boysen are on the contest committee.

Church Services Announced at Embarrass

Embarrass — Services at Zion Lutheran church will be at 7:30 and 10:30 a. m.

At 7 p. m. Tuesday the Sunday school teachers will meet, and at 8 p. m. Thursday there will be a meeting of the Men's club.

The sermon topic for the 9:30 a. m. service at the Embarrass Congregational church will be "Peace on Earth."

At 7 p. m. Thursday the Ladies Aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. T. A. Paterson.

City Mail Truck Delivery Extended In Route 2 Area

City mail delivery will be extended for route 2, Appleton, patrons, Francis Sumnicht, Appleton postmaster says. The new truck delivery service will begin today.

Areas affected include homes between Northland avenue to Third avenue on Richmond street; Spencer street from the city limits to Highway 41; Bluemound drive from Spencer street to Pine street; Tillman street, and all of Ridge lane and Timmers lane.

The postmaster has requested patrons to use house numbers and street names on future correspondence.

County Council to Meet Wednesday At Shiocton Post

Shiocton — American Legionnaires and auxiliary members of Outagamie county will conduct a county council meeting at the Legion clubhouse Wednesday.

Mrs. Stanley Staidl, Appleton, department auxiliary president, will speak. Clarence DeBruin, county commander, will preside.

Fee May be Charged Users of State Parks

Conservation Director to Submit Bill To Legislature to Raise Needed Funds

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — Picknickers and other visitors who yearly visit state parks in droves must be prepared to pay a fee for park use in the future.

The conservation department has won the backing of a legislative interim committee for a park admissions fee charge. It evidently cleared the idea also with Gov.-Elect Gaylord Nelson at a budget hearing this week.

Nelson did not directly commit himself on the proposition, but he made no objection when Conservation Director Lester Voigt explained that he will submit a bill not yet settled on a figure, to the legislature providing a system of fees that will yield about half a million dollars a year in additional revenues sonable uniformity.

Probably $2 Fee
The resident admission fee, for all year use rights, will probably be set at $2 Voigt said.

There will be a heavier charge for non-residents, although the department has not yet settled on a figure. The department chief says he wants to consult with other Midwest states to retain re-

Girl, 16, Objects to Parents Knowing 'Life History' of Dates

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Do you think it's necessary for the parents of a 16-year-old girl to know the life history of every boy who takes her out?

I am an average student (never flunked anything) and I have never been in trouble. I think it's a rotten shame that parents don't show a little confidence in their kids and trust them. I'm getting fed up on the third degree every time I go out with a fellow.

Please put your answer in the paper. If you sent me a letter they would probably think I wrote it to myself.—JANE

What do you mean by "life history" and "third degree"? If you're asking if parents have the right to know the name of the boy you're going out with, how old he is, where he intends to take you for the evening, and what time he plans to bring you home — the answer is yes.

Parents who want to know these facts are not nosy. They simply have brains enough to pay attention to the company their daughter keeps. Want anything else answered in the paper?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was sitting around feeling sorry for myself because tomorrow, Marge Peterson, Helen Row is my birthday and I just Durrant and Alva Gammond, knew my husband wouldn't let her canasta club.

remember. Then I picked up the Post-Crescent and started to read your column.

Coincidence is a strange thing. The letter from the woman whose husband never remembered special days was right there in bold print. I felt very sad for this woman because, naturally, I identified her with myself.

And then I read your wonderful answer. It really changed my whole way of thinking and I shall always be grateful. You said, "The best gift a husband can give his wife is year-round respect, loyalty and affection."

For the first time I realized I had all three, and suddenly I didn't care if he brought me a present or not. I know he loves me. Thank you, Ann.—CONTENTED

The POWER of FAITH
By Howard Brodie

"And Thou Oh Bethlehem, in the land of Juda are not the least among the princes of Juda, for out of thee shall come a king that shall rule my people." MATTHEW 2:6.

Bethlehem today is still not the least among the princes of Juda. Gnarled olive trees frame the approach to the little town, which sits on the slopes of a hill terraced with olive groves. From a distance, the town seems to cluster around the steeples of the Church of the Nativity.

At dusk, the slopes turn gray-green and Bethlehem is silhouetted against the sky. Perhaps it was on a still, clear night like this that Phillips Brooks looked out over the ancient city, imagined it as Mary and Joseph must have known it, and wrote the immortal:

"Oh little town of Bethlehem
How still we see thee lie
Above thy deep and dreamless sleep
The silent stars go by
Yet in thy dark streets shineth
The everlasting light
The hopes and fears of all the years
Are met in thee tonight."

Japan Helps in 2 Philippine Projects
Tokyo —/— The Philippines was assured of help from Japan, its World War II foe, in two public works projects expected to cost about $78 million. A communique issued jointly by visiting Philippines President Carlos P. Garcia and Japanese Premier Nobusuke Kishi announced Japan will arrange credit — the exact amount unspecified — from private firms. The projects are the Marikina river power dam about 20 miles northeast of Manila, expected to cost $54 million, and modernization of the Philippines telecommunications system, for which the bill may run to $24½ million.

Jeannie Diets With Astounding Results

BY JEANNETTE GRIFFITH
Right after Thanksgiving I encountered one of those hectic days that herald the start of the Christmas season. I worked all morning at the church bake sale, generously sampling our wares. Then I went to a wonderful luncheon at Mary Swanson's and after that to a tea — featuringocha butter cream petit fours. I barely got home in time to fix dinner for the children and dress for an office dinner with John.

"Darn!" I said, struggling into the skirt of my beige wool suit. "Those cleaners have shrunk this."
"Are you sure?" John asked, glancing up from his paper.
"Look," I cried edging in between him and his favorite editorial column. "This zipper won't close by an inch. They've ruined my suit."
"Are you sure?" John asked again. Well, I wasn't going to give him the satisfaction of seeing me get out the tape measure, but when he left the room I checked and discovered the disastrous truth. In some sneaky fashion six pounds had crept up on me.

Diet Impossible
Constantly assailed by the most delicious temptations, I soon discovered that dieting during the Christmas season is next to impossible. At the end of three days I climbed on the bathroom scales and squinted down at the figure. We have one of those prehistoric types that practically require the use of opera glasses. Well, I squinted — and found I hadn't lost an ounce!
In the last issue of my Happy Housekeeper's Herald I had come across a diet which sounded most peculiar, but which promised fabulous results. Upon rereading, it sounded more peculiar, but I decided to show it to John. "You eat everything you want," I explained. "It's the way you group the different kinds of foods together that makes the difference."
John glanced over the article. "Another silly fad," he said. "The only way to lose weight is to stop eating." He took another chocolate from a box a client had sent and so did the children. "I don't see why you want to diet," Tommy said. "I like mothers to be fat."

I thought them all unfeeling, and John especially callous. Snatching up the magazine I arranged my diet list for the following day.
I weighed myself at the end of three days and was amazed to find that I'd lost three pounds. At the end of five days—five pounds! Oddly enough, though, when I tried on the beige wool skirt the zipper still wouldn't close. I wondered a little but then I've often read that weight and measurement loss don't follow each other exactly.
But after eight days when the scales registered an eight pound loss and the skirt still didn't fasten I was alarmed. I had also read about people starving to death who bloated and got bigger and bigger. I stopped the diet, but it made no difference. Nine days—nine pounds. On the tenth day I went to the bathroom in a highly nervous state. If I'd lost another pound I would have to tell John or the doctor.

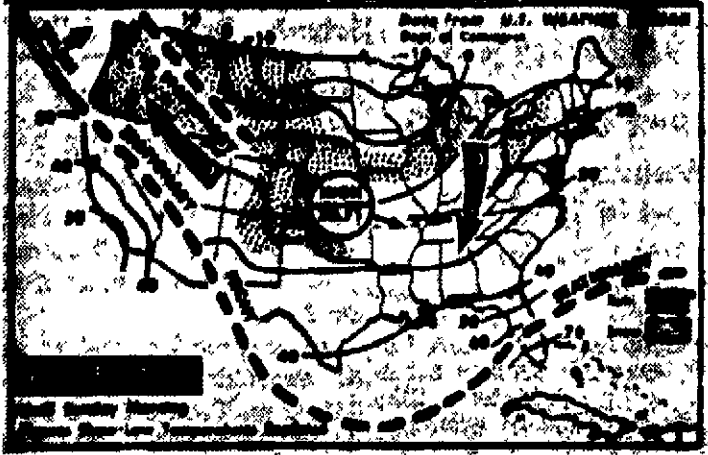

Green Bay Man Wins Service Award

Milwaukee —A Virgil Muench of Green Bay, a longtime spokesman for clean waters in Wisconsin, Friday night received the Milwaukee County Conservation Alliance award for distinguished service to conservation in Wisconsin for 1958.
Muench, an attorney and former president of the Izaak Walton league, was presented with the award at the 11th annual banquet of the alliance. Muench is a current member of the interim legislative committee on water.
The citation lauded Muench for his roles in the fight to save the Namakagon River in northwestern Wisconsin and for preservation of traditional riparian water laws against the pressure of industrial and agricultural groups.

New London Church Nativity Scene, Music on Lutheran Yule Program

New London — The Ladies Aid society of the Emanuel Lutheran church held a Christmas program Thursday afternoon at the grade school.
Highlighting the program was a nativity scene. "Christmas" was sung by Karen Learman, accompanied by Don Huber at the organ. Members of the cast were Mrs. Eugene Fuhrmann, Mary; Mary Jean Westphal, an angel; Mrs. Milton Handschke, Mrs. Marlin Hintz and Mrs. Herb Wilde, the three kings; and Mrs. Clifford Zietlow, Mrs. Claire Baehman and Mrs. Donald Dent, shepherds.
Band Numbers
Junior band members, under the direction of Maurice Bleick, played "Jolly Old St. Nicholas," "Deck the Halls," "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" and "O Come All Ye Faithful."
Members of the band were Kenneth Eggert, Karen Learman, Cheryl Marzink, Cheryl Lehman, Lorraine Brensike, Marsha Radtke, Jane Kusserow, Linda Cartwright, Betty Bast, Susan Fuhrmann, Donna Plumb, Jane Pankow, Barbara Burton and Jimmy Else.
A skit, "Johnny Smoker," was presented by Mrs. Leo Meshke, Mrs. John Sanders, Mrs. Irma Spiering, Mrs. Roy Queeman, Mrs. Henry Lippold, Mrs. Walter Raschke, and Mrs. Frieda Restle.
Five kindergarten pupils, Mary Heidemann, Nancy Ohst, Kathy Kileen, Jeanne Hintz and Bonnie Learman, sang "Beautiful Saviour."
Lorraine Brensike played the saxophone solo, "Star of the East." The Rev. Frederick Heidemann, assistant pastor, sang "O Holy Night." Mary Jane Westphal did a pantomime act of an angel.
Last Song
The concluding number was "The Good Night Song" sung by Jane Pankow, Betty Bast, Sally Schuelke, Susan Fuhrmann, Sandy Pribbernow, Sandy Stiebs and Mary Jane

Cold Keeps Chilly Grip On Fox Cities

Old Man Weather kept his cold fingers firmly gripped on the Fox Cities today and showed no signs of relenting. Appleton temperatures for the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock showed a high of 16 and a low of 3 above. Temperature at 10:30 a.m. was 7 above.

The cold air mass capped its 2-day eastward movement by blanketing the Atlantic seaboard. Only Florida and the southwest escaped the giant cold surge.

Overnight and early morning readings slid to 0 and 10 below in many parts of Montana, the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Wisconsin's low was 2 degrees below zero at Park Falls. The high was 21 at Beloit. Two degrees above zero was the peak temperature at Park Falls and Superior.

Taxpayers Set Studies, Drive for Members

Special Committees to Look at City Public Schools, County Airport, Budget Document

An ambitious program of study and a 14-month membership drive were announced today by Appleton Taxpayers association.

Part of the study will be conducted by Public Expenditures Survey of Wisconsin, the state-wide organization of which the association is a member.

Public Expenditures Survey will conduct a continuing study of both city and county government spending during 1959 and will make a special study of Appleton's bonded debt.

Separate committees of the association will study the city's public schools, the county airport and the city's official budget document.

Attend Meetings
The Public Expenditures Survey study of city and county spending will pay particular attention to how spending jibes with the budget passed last month, Kesley Kolbe, association public relations chairman, said.

To augment the PES survey, association members will attend all informal committee and official government meetings where projects involving large expenditures are discussed.

Harley O. Barney and Philip Ottman have been named co-chairmen of the public schools' study. They intend to review for study Ald. Alvin E. Tews' suggestion of last January for school classes in quarters or daily shifts, or an 11-month year, and to study how the pupil-teacher ratio can be increased, Kolbe said.

Sherman Frinak is chairman of the committee to study the county airport. Sending Letters
He intends to start with this thought in mind, Kolbe said: "The city is expanding swiftly. Is the present port adequate? If not, what other sites are available?"

Gregory A. Schulte, association president, is chairman of the committee which will study the city budget document. His committee, Kolbe said, will draft a sample document for next year's budget committee.

Chairmen of the three committees will select their own committeemen. W. A. Close has been named chairman of the membership drive. Donald Jabas and Dr. J. C. Curry are committeemen.

Each of the associations 111 members are being asked to send letters to five friends urging membership. Kolbe reported. Membership costs $2 a year.

Frenches Given Big Welcome By 'Martians'

Appleton Couple Reach Goal After Jet Air Flight

Arless French, manager of the Appleton Red Owl store, reached Mars, Germany, Friday.

He found Mars a tiny hamlet, population 78, north of Duesseldorf on the German-Dutch border.

French and his wife received a warm reception. All 78 inhabitants turned out, including the mayor of nearby Bismarck, who also looks after Mars' civic affairs. The Frenches were given bouquets and small gifts.

The couple arrived in Duesseldorf, Germany, by plane Thursday night, and drove to Mars Friday by automobile.

French won the trip by saving 900 Burma Shave cream jars in response to a joking road sign offering a trip to Mars for 900 jars. The company chose to send him to the European city.

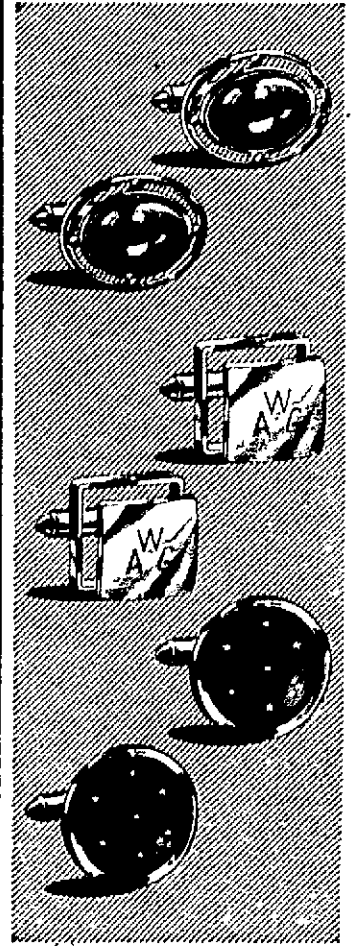

Accompanying the Frenches from Duesseldorf were Mrs. French's sister and her husband, Sgt. and Mrs. Fred Poupour. He is stationed with the army in Baumholder. The Frenches will visit there briefly after spending the weekend in Mars.

Cars Collide After Driver Stops for Sign

Cars driven by Lloyd Jentz, 32, route 2, Appleton, and Richard A. Gehrke, 61, 615 Dickinson street, New London, collided at W. Eighth and S. Locust streets and S. Badger avenue Friday afternoon.

Police said Gehrke stopped for a stop sign as he drove west on W. Eighth, then pulled onto S. Badger into the path of Jentz' northbound car. Police said Gehrke was issued a traffic summons for inattentive driving.

Appleton Driver Skids Into Opposite Lane Near Overhead

Oshkosh — Two cars were damaged and the driver of one of them slightly injured in an accident on Highway 41 near the construction of the new County Trunk P overhead in the town of Menasha at 5:30 p.m. Friday.

Jack R. Claghorn, 29, 1131 Chestnut street, Neenah, was taken to Theda Clark hospital for treatment of a cut under the lower lip and then released, state police said. His car and one driven by Gordon A. Kiefer, 35, 842 Prospect avenue, Appleton, collided near the construction area.

Kiefer said he was going north on Highway 41 and was unsure of the road as he approached the construction area. He applied his brakes, causing the car to spin to the left, turning completely around and going into the left lane where it collided with the southbound Claghorn car.

Hit-Run Accident
Theodore D. Wicinsky, 20, Butte des Morts, reported to county police at 10:30 p.m. Friday his car had been side-swiped by a hit-and-run driver on Highway 45 just north of Oshkosh. Wicinsky said he was going north when the other car came into his lane, causing him to swing to the right and jump the curb.

A car owned by Jerry Sturgis, 19, route 1, Neenah, was found abandoned against a telephone pole on Highway 114 in the town of Neenah at 12:35 a.m. today. Visible tire marks showed the car had gone 400 feet on the wrong side of the road and had struck a tree before ending up on its left side against the pole, county police said. No driver was found near the car.

REBEKAH

"And it came to pass, before he had done speaking, that, behold, Rebekah came out... with her pitcher upon her shoulder."

—Genesis 24:15

Rebekah, whose name in Hebrew meant "a rope with a noose," signifying "a young woman whose beauty ensnares," was the daughter of Bethuel. Scripture tells us nothing of her early childhood. But there is little doubt that it followed the social pattern of those times. Girls joined in the labors in the fields, watched their fathers' flocks, gleaned the harvest, and carried water.

It was when Rebekah came to a well with a pitcher on her shoulder that she met the servant Abraham had sent out to find a wife for his son Isaac.

The servant knew that all the young girls of the town would come to the well to draw water. So he made his ten camels kneel down a little distance away, and waited.

He had prayed to God: "Let it come to pass, that the damsel to whom I shall say, Let down thy pitcher, I pray thee, that I may drink; and she shall say, Drink, and I will give thee drink also: let the same be she that thou hast appointed for thy servant Isaac."

Even while Abraham's servant was still making this request to God, Rebekah appeared at the well. She drew water, not only for the stranger, but for his camels.

"As the camels had done drinking, the man took a golden earring of half a shekel weight, and two bracelets for her hands of ten shekels weight of gold."

After he had given these to the beautiful young girl, and she had put them on, Abraham's messenger asked her who she was. He was already certain she was the bride he sought for Isaac. He had asked God for guidance, and he believed in guidance when it was given.

Rebekah took him to her father's house, where he was received with cordial hospitality and given lodging.

That night, the stranger told Rebekah's father and her brother, Laban, of his mission. He also related his experience at the well.

"And now," he said "if ye will deal kindly and truly with my master, tell me: and if not, tell me: that I may turn to the right hand or to the left."

But Bethuel and Laban also believed in God's guidance. They replied:

"The thing proceedeth from the Lord: we cannot speak unto thee bad or good. Behold, Rebekah is before thee, take her, and go, and let her be thy master's son's wife, as the Lord hath spoken."

Indonesian Woman Asks Marriage Law Change

New York — Herawati Diah is a fighter. She took part in Indonesia's struggle for independence and once was jailed by the British. Today she is fighting for her young republic's women.

"Independence has meant a great deal for the women of Indonesia," the attractive, 41-year-old journalist said, "but we are not yet finished. We must amend our marriage laws."

She explained that a new marriage act, pending before the Indonesian Parliament, will make it more difficult for Indonesian men to continue polygamous marriages.

Like other Moslems, Indonesia's men can take up to four wives. Moslem marriage laws have not been changed, although Indonesia's new constitution gives women considerably more freedom than they have ever had, and voting rights.

"We don't of course, want to change the Koran," Mrs. Diah said with a smile. "But we want the men to take their marriage vows seriously, and live up to the Koran."

The Koran, she pointed out, allows a man to take four wives. But it also stipulates that he has to give an equal share of his love and care for all wives.

"This is easier in theory than in practice," she added. Editor of the daily Indonesian Observer in Jakarta, Mrs. Diah writes editorials, edits local news, does a feature article and two weekly columns for her newspaper.

No stranger to the United States, Mrs. Diah was a 1941 graduate of Barnard College. She returned to the United States in 1956 to attend an international seminar at Harvard. This time — her third visit — she is attending the American Press Institute's seminar for South and Southeast Asian newspaper executives.

Mrs. Diah was born and raised on Billiton, an island near Singapore. Her father was a doctor in the government service. The family moved to Jakarta after 10 years and she attended a Dutch school.

During the Japanese occupation of Indonesia — then the Dutch East Indies — she married a journalist. He started the newspaper, Merdeka, after the war. In the strife-torn era just after the hostilities, she was imprisoned by British landing forces for allegedly distributing pamphlets calling for Indonesia's freedom.

The British apparently had thought she was responsible because the slogans were in English and similar to America's cry for freedom against the British. She was released after a week in a Jakarta jail.

Then came independence, she said. "The women felt they had to do something to help. We occupied administrative posts without previous training. We did the best we could."

Japan Women
Mrs. Diah said there's more freedom for women in Indonesia than in Japan. On a recent visit to Tokyo, she was surprised at the way Japanese women still occupy a strictly subservient role to their husbands.

The Indonesian editor has three children. The two girls are Adianiawati, 14, and Nurdianiawati, 12. The boy is Nurdman, 11.

"Our girls almost never go out alone on dates," she said. "And as a mother, I don't think I'd like my daughters to go out alone with boys."

She said once a girl starts going out alone with a man in Indonesia, it means she's practically engaged.

Mrs. Diah says Indonesia's women still have a lot to learn from their Western sisters. She's convinced they will.

"After all," she added with a laugh, "as a people, Indonesians and Americans are informal. We should get along."

Omro — Hortonville High school, defending champion of Little Nine conference and winner of 25 out of 28 league tilts in 1956-7 and 1957-8, went down to defeat here Friday night at the hands of Omro High, 63-55.

Omro, with five vets from last year's third place team, led from the opening gun. Holding a height advantage, the Foxes went out in front 20-11 at the end of the first period and were never headed.

Omro's Glen Frank and Jim Thomas helped control the boards and enable their team to lead Hortonville by as much as 10 points at one stage of the game. It was the Foxes' second conference victory.

The hosts led by only one goal from the floor but hit 19 out of 25 free shots while the Polar Bears managed 13 out of 19. Omro senior guard Frank was high scorer with 23 points. Don Otto hit 19 and Joe Steffen 10 for Hortonville.

Freedom Quint Loses

Hilbert—Free throws made the difference Friday night as Hilbert High school defeated Freedom High, 51-44. It was Hilbert's second straight Little Nine conference victory.

Freedom held a 41-35 lead at the end of three periods but in the final period were outscored, 16-3. Hilbert began to press in the final minutes and caused the visitors to commit a considerable number of fouls.

The Wolves sank 14 out of 18 free throws in the final quarter and totaled 25 out of 35 for the game. Hilbert guard Bob Lowe especially profited on the gift line, totaling 13. He added eight field goals, becoming the game's high scorer with 29 points.

Reedsville — Shiocton's Myron Kruzicki whipped in eight of his clubs 10 points in the final quarter to help Shiocton High stave off Reedsville and post a 40-37 basketball win here Friday night.

Kruzicki finished with 15 points and scoring honors in the Little Nine conference game. Shiocton had leads at the ends of each of the quarter rests but Reedsville never was out of contention in the low-scoring defensive battle.

Shiocton made just four of 20 free throws, missing all 12 of its foul shot tries in the fourth quarter. Reedsville collected seven in 12 tries.

Other honor series included a 556 effort by Alfred Chouinard and a 554 by Earl Peters. First place Menasha Recreation has a 1-game advantage over its nearest rival with a 28-14 slate.

Wrightstown Falls

Denmark — A tough Denmark zone defense and cold shooting on the part of Wrightstown's Tigers held the visitors to 19 points here Friday night as the Vikings achieved a 44-19 basketball win.

The victory was the second straight in Little Nine play for Denmark.

Denmark moved to a 13-7 first quarter lead and hiked the margin in each succeeding frame. Lloyd Pantzaff and Keith Larsen gave the visitors backboard control and hit 13 and 11 points, respectively.

Wrightstown's Tigers held the visitors to 19 points here Friday night as the Vikings achieved a 44-19 basketball win.

Bear Creek Triumphs

Winnecoonne — Bear Creek High school chalked up its first Little Nine conference cage victory here Friday night, downing Winnecoonne, 68-57. The Bruins led throughout the first half with forward Bryce Schmude showing the way.

Winnecoonne got rolling the third period and led at one point by four points. However, in the fourth quarter the Wolves attempted to press and in the process fouls caught up with them.

Bear Creek went ahead on free throws, with Gary Affeldt dumping in six gift shots alone in the final period and totaling 14-for-17 on the free throw line for the night.

Affeldt was high point man with 28 points.

Olson Collects 565 Threesomes In 'Commercial'

Menasha — Larry Olson of Larry's Kurv Inn quintet posted a 565 series in the Commercial Bowling league Friday night at the Menasha Recreation alleys. None of the games were of honor total proportions.

Other honor series included a 556 effort by Alfred Chouinard and a 554 by Earl Peters. First place Menasha Recreation has a 1-game advantage over its nearest rival with a 28-14 slate.

Trotters Face Sheboygan in Home Opener

Menashans Seek 1st Win Against Defending Champs

Menasha — The Menasha Extension cagers will open their 7-game home schedule with a 7 o'clock contest against defending champion Sheboygan at the Menasha High school gym.

Sheboygan brings a 2-1 record into tonight's contest. Last year's league winners overpowered Kenosha 63-34 in their most recent outing. Menasha didn't make its destination, Marinette, last Saturday because of transportation difficulties and the game will be played later in the season.

The Chair city cagers bested Marinette 88-51 and dropped a 55-51 decision to unbeaten Wausau in their previous starts.

The Trotters have an 0-3 record on reverses at the hands of Kenosha, Racine and Green Bay.

Sheboygan has the conference's second leading scorer in DuWayne Prinson, who has 70 points in three games, and in the process fouls caught up with them.

Bear Creek went ahead on free throws, with Gary Affeldt dumping in six gift shots alone in the final period and totaling 14-for-17 on the free throw line for the night.

Affeldt was high point man with 28 points.

Kimberly and Menasha Cagers found themselves in a variety of positions during exciting second half action in Friday's Mid-Eastern conference game. The Bluejay (No. 50) heading for a fall is Bill Ritchie. Kimberly's No. 45 with the ball is Tom Rooyackers. Darrell Jansen (23), Kimberly, and Dave Ristau of the Jays complete the quartet. Ritchie, Rooyackers and Ristau all are sophomores. Kimberly built up a big first half lead, saw its advantage dip to two points in the fourth period but finally won 70-62.

Menashans Seek Fourth Victory In Eastern Loop

Menasha — The Menasha Macs play host to Reedsville at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Butte des Morts gym as they bid for their fourth straight Eastern Wisconsin league victory.

The Macs have an overall 8-1 slate, including Thursday's forfeit win in the City league. Their Eastern league record includes triumphs over Valders, New Holstein and Chilton. The closest call was a 6-point win over Valders last week.

The Menashans, who are home for the next two weeks, chalked up an 87-52 non-league win over Reedsville early last month.

John Chapleau scored 22 points for the Macs and "Doc" Kramer and Pete Burghardt each had 13. Wenzel and Behnke had 12 and 11 respectively for Reedsville.

St. John Shoots For 3rd Victory Against Clints

Menasha — Menasha gyms will be the sites of two Badger Amateur Basketball league games tonight and in both of them at least one of the teams will be looking for its initial league win.

St. John entertains Clintonville in its gym while the Menasha Merchants will be the host club in the game at the Butte des Morts gym against Winnecoonne.

Preliminary games are scheduled before both of them. At St. John, the St. John Juniors will take on Neenah Paper of the Neenah Industrial league at 6:45. The Menasha Recreation alleys will collide Company I of the same Neenah circuit at 6:30 at Butte des Morts.

St. John takes a 2-1 record into its test with Clintonville. The Clints are winless in as many starts. It will be the first meeting since Clintonville is in the league for the first time this year.

Both the Menasha Merchants and Winnecoonne take Point Pacelli - St. Mary game 0-3 records into their game. St. John entertains Wausau Winnecoonne came closest to Newman and Fond du Lac victory when Hortonville Springs is host to Ripon as scored in the last two seconds, it bids for its sixth straight to beat it 66-65 two weeks ago, triumph.

Two '57-'58 Starters Lead Pacelli Against St. Mary High Cagers

Cardinals Notch Wins Over Chippewa Falls
McDonnell, Wausau Newman in 1st 2 Starts

Menasha — A Stevens Point Pacelli quintet which has four lettermen invades the St. Mary High school court to battle the Zephyrs tonight.

Two starters from last year are included among the Cardinal returnees. They include Bill Menzel, a 6-6 center, and guard Bill Barnhofer.

Menzel scored seven points and Barnhofer had 12 in Pacelli's 56-46 win over the Zephyrs here last year. In the second game at Stevens Point won 64-56 by the Menashans, Barnhofer made six while the tall pivotman was held scoreless and eventually fouled out.

Other returnees are guard Don Oppiola and forward Mike Kurz. Oppiola saw action in the second game and scored nine points. Completing the starting five is Don Ziaja. All are seniors.

Pacelli has played two games and has been victorious in both. They trounced Chippewa Falls McDonnell 54-32 in the first game and Tuesday night chalked up a 57-49 verdict over Wausau Newman, paced by Oppiola's 21 points. Barnhofer was the top scorer in the Chippewa Falls game.

St. Mary goes into the contest with a 1-3 record on a conference win over St. Norbert and non-league losses to North, Notre Dame and Don Bosco, all of Milwaukee. The Zephyrs have an exhibition win over the state reformatory.

The status of Ed Lotzer, Jim Bayer and Mike DuFrane is doubtful because of illness and injuries.

Current Zephyr players who saw action in last year's loss and their points contributed included Jim Bayer 11, Jim Rueckl and Dean Schreyer eight, Norm Brown four and Gary Batley two.

Rueckl and Batley had 14 points in the second meeting. Lotzer hit seven and Brown had five.

Kimberly JV's Register Win Over Menasha

Hold Jays to Two Points in Second Period; Cop 48-32

Menasha — Kimberly made a clean sweep of its set with Menasha here Friday night by winning the junior varsity game 48-32.

Menasha held a 9-8 lead at the end of the first quarter but could only find the range for a single basket in the second frame while Kimberly was making 15 points, to give the latter a 23-11 advantage at halftime.

The Papermakers added the first basket of the third period but the Jays came back to play them on even terms the rest of the frame. Both teams made 11 points to give the visitors a 34-22 edge after three.

Dick Bonzelet led the Kimberly scoring with 17 points on seven baskets and three free throws. Jim Peerenboom tallied 10 and Dave Kringie made seven.

John Matowitz paced the losers with 10 markers. Bill Gerhard and Wayne Doverspike had five apiece.

The loss gives Menasha an overall 1-4 record for the season, including 0-2 in league play. Kimberly had a 2-0 M-E slate.

Young Jordan
Reigns as New Welter Champ

Scores Stunning
Upset Over Akins
In 15 Rounds

BY BOB MYERS
Los Angeles —(P)— Youthful, unheralded Don Jordan of Los Angeles today reigned as the new welterweight champion of the world.

Jordan won a stunning upset Friday night over Virgil Akins of St. Louis, a veteran many astute boxing people felt would give the Californian a horrible beating.

But it was the other way around as the two clashed at the Olympic auditorium before 7,344 fans and a national television audience in Akins' first defense of the crown won last June. The decision was unanimous, by a substantial margin.

In No Serious Trouble
Jordan, 24, a 3-1 underdog, got off to an early lead and never relinquished it. He never was in serious trouble and wound up giving the 30-year-old champ a bad beating.

Referee Lee Grossman under California's 10-point per round system gave it to Jordan, 145-138; Judge Mushy Callahan had it 145-132 and Judge Tommy Hart 146-136.

There were no knockdowns but Akins survived a hectic bombardment in the tenth round.

Jordan, the boxer, also proved to be Jordan the biter, and equal to Akins in roughhousing and brawling, which was the main offense of the "Honey Bear" last night.

Jordan came up with a bad cut over the left eye—he said it was from a butt—and Akins' right eye was slashed and eventually reduced to a swollen mess in the tenth round.

Akins has a contract for a rematch within 60 days. The rematch may be delayed while both fighters' wounds heal.

Akins weighed 145½ and Jordan 145.

Chicago —(P)— A scant two pins separates the top 3 men bowlers after 12 games in the World's Invitational Match Game championships in the Chicago coliseum.

Lou Campi, the 52-year-old mason contractor from DuMont, N.J., had a slim lead of one over J. B. Solomon of Dallas, Texas, and two over former all-star champion Dick Hoover of Akron, Ohio.

Campi added a 1,286 Friday to his first round 1,287 for a 12-game score of 2,573. Solomon, a Texas bowling supply store operator, had 2,572, while the portly Hoover finished with 2,571.

In the women's division, part Jere Price, a 26-year-old bowling instructor, moved into the lead with 1,705 pins for eight games.

Loses, 62-61, in
Final 2 Seconds

Oshkosh —(P)— Geno Wiebusch scored a basket with only two seconds remaining Friday night for Mankato's 62-61 non-conference basketball victory over Oshkosh State.

Mankato led, 30-26, at half-time.

Wiebusch also captured scoring honors for the contest with 19 points. Jim Davis was high man for Oshkosh with 13.

The defeat was the second of the season for Oshkosh and the second victory for Mankato.

San Diego, Calif. — Charlie Powell, 213½, San Diego, knocked out Charlie Jones, 199½, Newark, N. J. 2.

Green Bay Eyes
Much-Needed Win
At San Francisco

Frankie Albert Not Overconfident
Despite 49ers' Earlier Success

San Francisco —(P)— Following historic advice, the Green Bay Packers have gone west—in search of National Football league victories that have eluded them all too frequently this year. They meet the San Francisco 49ers Sunday.

Specifically, the Packers seek a much needed victory in their now desperate bid to avoid their worst season in 40 years in the NFL. Green Bay is last in the Western conference with a 1-8-1 record.

First Season
Possibly at stake as well are the jobs of Coach Ray McLean and General Manager Vern Lewellen. McLean is completing his first season as head coach.

The Packers traditionally end their season with the junket to the West coast. A meeting with the Rams at Los Angeles a week from Sunday will close the season.

The Packers left for the coast Monday. They have been drilling at Palo Alto. In addition to better weather, the Packers have had a longer than usual rest. They've not played since their Thanksgiving day defeat by the Lions in Detroit.

The meeting with the 49ers is a return engagement. The teams met in Milwaukee two weeks ago, the 49ers coming up with three touchdowns in the final period to insure a 32-12 victory. The Packers were much in that game until everything went wrong in the last quarter which ended in a fight. Six players were tossed out and the game was called ended with 34 seconds remaining on the Milwaukee County stadium clock.

McLean and Lewellen did not travel with the club to the coast, but spent last Monday in Philadelphia for the first rounds of the draft of college players.

Tommy Jacobs Leads by One
At Dorado Beach
Dorado Beach, Puerto Rico —(P)— Stuart Symington, Democratic senator from Missouri, thinks the year-old Dorado Beach course, where the $30,000 Invitational Golf tourney is being played is tailor-made to President Eisenhower's game.

And he suggests the president make a visit to this island for both prestige and golf reasons.

Symington is vacationing here and takes his turn on the course when it is not in use by the pros who have reached the halfway mark of their 72-hole extravaganza.

Young Tommy Jacobs of Whittier, Calif., leads by a stroke.

Both Jacobs and equally young Wesley Ellis of Aldershot, N.J., shot 68s Friday. Jacobs had a 71 the first day and Ellis a par 72.

Behind them with a 70-71-141 is Howie Johnson of Glenwood, Ill.

Munich, Germany — Gustav Scholz, 165, Germany, knocked out Tuzo Portuguez, 171, Puerto Rico, 1.

A once-green Appleton High school basketball team, that is "ripening" faster than even its staunchest supporters could have envisioned, broke into the 1958-9 victory column with a resounding crash here Friday night.

During a remarkable 2-week metamorphosis, the Terrors changed from an erratic, ineffective unit that was whaled, 74-44, by Kimberly into a smooth, confident team that clipped Sheboygan Central, 65-51.

Central Favored
While it's true Central is no Kimberly, the clash with the Redmen shaped up as a pretty good test for the Terrors. In fact, with five hold-over lettermen and an unbeaten JV team joining the varsity, Central rated the favorite's role in this Fox River Valley conference opener.

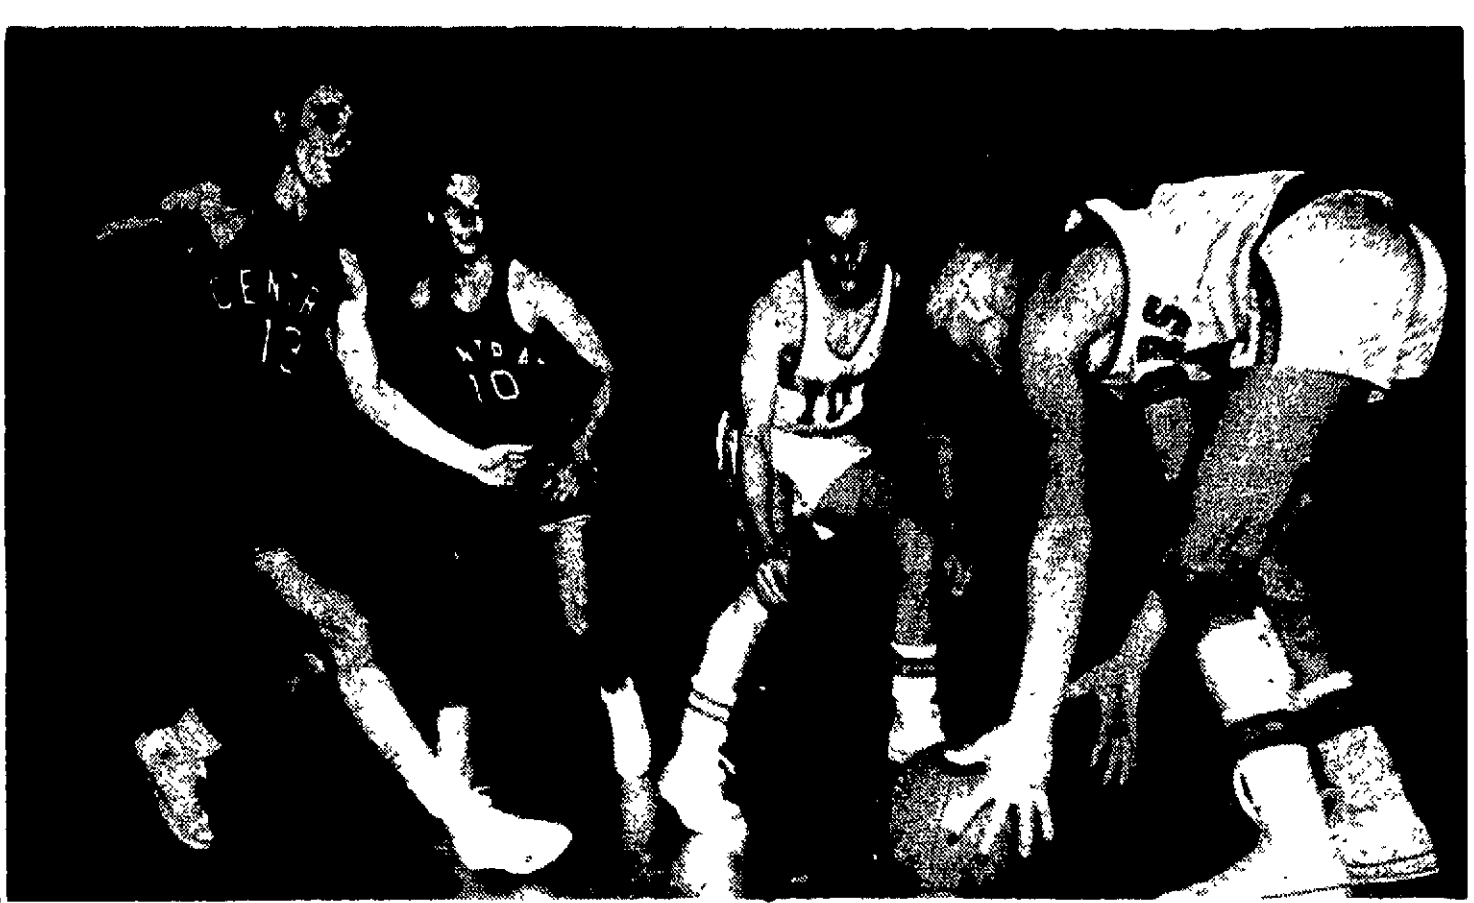

And, just as Kimberly might have beaten AHS by an even greater margin had not reserves been liberally used, so the Terrors' edge over Central could have been more pronounced last night.

AHS, which was never headed after the first 6 minutes, 22 seconds of play led by 21 points (65-44) when it rested its case. With reserves used frequently in the final quarter and exclusively in the final 3½ minutes, the Terrors failed to score in that 210-second span while Central was flipping in the game's final seven points.

Blend Wares
The seven most-used Terrors all came up with top-flight individual efforts, but there were no individual heroes as such. Coach Dick Emanuel's courtmen blended their wares into a scintillating team "product" — team play that bewitched, bothered and bewildered the slower reacting Redmen.

AHS' new offensive alignment featured the double pivot primarily, with Larold Lodholz playing one post and the other tall boys, Paul Vander Heyden, Jack Falous and Ron Reetz alternating at the other.

Menasha — Blistering the nets to the tune of a merry 53 per cent, Kimberly fought off Menasha's second-half challenge to defeat the Jays, 70-62, here Friday night.

The win was the fourth straight for the Papermakers; their second in Mid-Eastern conference play. Menasha has two league losses.

The talented Papermakers, unofficially, took 53 shots at the basket and connected 28 times for a red hot .528. They were equally as successful from the free throw line with 14 conversions in 19 attempts.

Jays Hit .406
But the Papermakers didn't gain the win without a struggle. Despite the stratospheric shooting percentage, they had to fight off a determined Menasha comeback. The Jays wound up with a good .406 on 26 for 64, including 16-31 in the second half.

Kaukauna — A stubborn band of Kaukauna High school cagers wilted in the home stretch Friday night as they dropped their home M-E conference opener to Two Rivers, 76-65.

The hosts led only briefly in the game taking over with about six minutes gone in the third period for a 49 to 48 edge, but the advantage was temporary as the Purple Raiders roared back to assume command.

Spectators felt sure they were in for a long night as the first period started off slowly with neither team able to find the range. Two Rivers held a 10-8 advantage at the end of the quarter after the game had been tied three times. The Ghosts made only one basket in the period while Two Rivers had two.

Start Moving
Both teams came back strong in the second period. The Raiders paced by Tom Lawrence who was hitting from all angles while Kaukauna kept in the contest on the field goal shooting of Ron Busse and Lee Weyenberg coupled with some hot free throw shooting.

Two Rivers hit for 30 points in the second quarter while Kaukauna registered 24. The Ghosts had dropped 16 of 17 free throws at halftime but were shooting at a 25 per cent clip from the floor. Two Rivers, meanwhile, had shot at 31 per cent.

Kaukauna began rolling in the third period and the boys seemed to take heart as the gap continued to close. Hold-

Victory Evens
Rockets' M-E
Record at 1-1

Clintonville — Neenah had six players with between six and 11 points here Friday night and that kind of scoring balance earned the Rockets a 58-46 basketball win over Clintonville.

The victory Neenah's third in five starts overall, evened the Rockets' Mid - Eastern conference record at 1-1 and moved the visitors into a fourth place tie in the M-E with Clintonville.

Clintonville had a couple of leads in the first period but Neenah was on top at the end of the frame, 12-9. The Rockets moved in front to stay in the second segment but held just a 24-21 halftime advantage.

In the third segment, Clintonville defensive lapses enabled Neenah's Jerry Moder to break loose for all 11 of his points. And, Jon Halverson, the other Neenah forward and also a senior, collected six of his eight in that segment.

That output helped the visitors gain a 47-32 advantage entering the final stanza.

Seniors Bob Tollefson and Bill Kuehl tied Moder for Rocket point honors.

Clintonville also sported commendable scoring balance with four cagers netting between eight and 11 points.

Wait Klaus and Bill Frisch counted eight and Pete Schnorr and Leon Westphal contributed 11 apiece.

The Trucker out rebounded their foes but shot an icy 15 of 84 from the floor for 18 per cent. Neenah missed just three of 15 free throws. Clintonville had 16-for-29.

Foxes to Get Increased
Financial Aid in '59

The Fox Cities Foxes, whose 1958 financial help from their working agreement with Washington left little to be desired, stand to benefit even more in '59.

First, there is a "flat rate" increase of $4,500. At this week's major-minor meeting in Washington, this element of assistance was raised from $5,000 to $9,500.

Another big boost is the majors' agreement to pay the entire amount of minor league managers' salaries. Last year, the Foxes paid the first $1,800, and Washington paid the balance.

Will Make Deposits
Other items, which will probably boost Foxes' help still more, pertain to players' salaries and transportation expenses.

Foxes' President Ray McClone and Business Manager Bob Willis, who represented the club at the meetings, report further details on the transportation compensation the two Wisconsin clubs will get from the four Western additions, Topeka, Sioux City, Lincoln and Des Moines will each deposit a stipulated sum (possibly between $500 and $1,000) with League President Hal Totten before the season opens. This amount will be scaled up or down later depending on what the expenses turn out to be.

This Fox Cities and Green Bay-earmarked pool will not only yield mileage to the clubs for their trips west

AHS Jayvees Down Central, Stay Unbeaten

Wipe Out 7-Point Deficit in Last Quarter Win, 43-39

Eradicating a 7-point deficit in the final quarter, the battling Appleton High junior varsity basketball team tripped Sheboygan Central, 43-39, here Friday night to remain undefeated.

The win — third in succession for the Junior Terrors — shattered a 2-season Central victory streak at 17 straight games. John Graff gained a measure of coaching vengeance over Walt Anderson, since last season's only two Junior Terror defeats were administered by Central.

AHS led, 25-21, at halftime and made the first basket of the third period. During the next five minutes, the visitors took advantage of cold AHS shooting and lax defensive play to outscore the hosts, 15-2, and run up a 36-29 margin at quarter's end.

In the first 68 seconds of the final quarter, the AHS jayvees got seven fast points — four of them by Marty Schultz — to deadlock the game.

Central went back ahead by three. Jeff Martin brought AHS within one point with a jump shot, and Schultz' rebound goal, with 2:55 left put his team ahead for good. John Manier sank three insurance free throws in the final two minutes.

Schultz hit 14 points for the AHS high but relinquished game honors to Central's Howie Schneider, with 18. Martin added 10 AHS points and played an outstanding floor game.

guys"—Bob Roemer, John Nussbaum and Bob Ferrel—manned the controls outside the circle. They kept the ball moving with precision and polish, playing for the good shots.

The Terrors fired only 42 times from the field and hit on 18 of them. Exceptionally good marksmanship from the corners helped boost the shooting rate to 42.8 per cent.

Sink 29 Foul Shots

In addition, the Terrors made far better use of their even split of the 48 fouls that were whistled in a sometimes-rough contest. AHS sank 29 of 40 attempts from the line for an excellent .725 rate.

Central shot only .273 from the floor and had a 63.6 per cent free throw rate.

Roemer came up with his career high of 19 points, which was also tops for the game. The fast and aggressive "Birdie" made six of 12 field goal attempts and caged seven of nine from the foul line. AHS had three other double-digit scorers.

Lodholz, getting good position under the basket both for shooting and rebounding, had a 4-for-8 night on field goals and 7-for-11 from the line.

Nussbaum added 13 points, seven of which came from nine free throw attempts. Ferrel, who popped in five of seven field shots, finished with 11 points.

Davies Hits 15

Tops on the somewhat-disappointing Central club was Dan Davies, with 15 points. Tom Posewitz, like Davies, a junior, was the only other 2-figure man with 10.

AHS trailed only twice — at 0-2 and 1-2. Three times during the initial six minutes the score was knotted (at 3, 9 and 11). Ferrel zeroed in from 15 feet for a 13-11 AHS lead with 1:38 remaining in the quarter — and the Terrors were in the van to stay.

Seymour Five Wins 2nd NEW Game in Row

Tips-Oconto, 56-48, As Phil Heuser Scores 18 Points

Seymour — Seymour High school grabbed its second straight Northeastern Wisconsin conference victory in downing Oconto, 56-48, Friday night on the losers' court. It was the Indians' fourth victory of the season.

The teams played even ball during the first half, but in the third quarter Seymour's Dick Gosse and Phil Heuser began to hit on long shots to give the visitors the advantage.

In the final period Oconto began to press and Seymour broke through with layups.

On the free throw line the Indians could hit for only 14 out of 30, while Oconto sank 10 out of 17.

Heuser dropped in eight out of 12 free throw attempts in the fourth period and wound up high scorer for the visitors with 18 points. Oconto's Bob Schmidt led all with 20.

Bonduel — Bonduel High school, led by Steve Nault's 35-point performance — captured a 69-68 basketball thriller from Amherst here Friday night. The victory left the Bears in a tie for the Central Wisconsin conference lead with Waupaca.

Scoring was fairly even during the first two periods, with the Falcons holding a 31-30 halftime lead. With two minutes to go in the game, Amherst had increased its lead to five points, largely through the efforts of forward Phil Martin who totaled 15 points in the fourth quarter alone.

However, with their 5-point lead, the Falcons refused to stall. Bonduel grabbed off rebounds and Steve Nault's scoring brought the Bears a 1-point lead with 58 seconds remaining. The victors stalled out the remaining time.

Amherst's Martin and R. Huntz each totaled 22 points but the hosts' Nault, who dumped in 25 points in the second half alone, was high man for the evening with 14 field goals and seven free throws for 35 points.

Iola — Iola put on the pressure in the fourth quarter to stash away what had been a tight ball game, defeating Weyauwega, 55-44, here Friday night.

The score was tied (14-14) after one stanza and the hosts were in front just 33-29 entering the final period of the sloppily-played game.

Big center Joe Leean wired 15 points for Iola but yielded game honors to Weyauwega's Jim Billington. Billington totaled 19 before he fouled out late in the game.

Iola's "B" team nudged 'Wega's jayvees, 29-27, in a game which wasn't decided until one overtime and a round of free throws. The varsity box score:

2' Paca Rinks Score Wins In First Event

3 Appleton Units Triumph in 'Spiei's Second Event

Wauapaca — Friday's events in the Midwest Curling association's annual bonspiel at Wauapaca put remaining rinks into a classification and determined who competes today for a chance in the semi-finals.

In the All-American event—the first—two Wauapaca rinks took wins. Bammel of Wauapaca won over Brenckle of Wauwatosa while Woody of Wauapaca defeated Ruth of Wausau.

Other first event winners yesterday were Kleffman of Hibbing over Carlson of Madison; Freytag of Chicago over Papefuss of Wausau, and Holly of LaCrosse over Rueckert of Portage.

Three rinks of Appleton curlers and one Wauapaca rink defeated opposition in the second, Twentieth Century event. Results were Bloomer of Appleton over Myers of Wausau; Steinberg of Appleton over Gall of Medford; and Phenner of Appleton over Wilson of Wausau, and Barrington of Wauapaca over Barrington of Duluth.

Other second-event winners yesterday were Winclzke of Wausau over Simkins of Nekeosa; Woodside of Stevens Point over Biersach of Wauwatosa, Hodge of Medford over Stewart of Chicago; and Goodland of Portage over Nolle of Milwaukee.

Third and Fourth event curlers today determined their classification in playoffs in which the winners go to the third, McGrath, event, and losers going to the fourth, Heil, event.

Results were Myers of Wausau over Gall of Medford; Simkins of Nekeosa over Biersach of Wauwatosa; Wilson of Wausau over Stewart of Arlington; Nolle of Milwaukee over Everett of Duluth; Brenckle of Wauwatosa over Rhodes of Madison; Mullarkey of Clintonville over Carlson of Madison; Papefuss of Wausau over Ruth of Wausau, and Brainard of Chicago over Rueckert of Portage.

From 5 to 8 p. m. today curlers will enjoy a banquet at the Wauapaca Country club served by Wauapaca women curlers, the Lochs.

Hampered by Injury Earl Buchholz Loses To Neale Fraser

Melbourne —(AP)—Hampered by a pulled thigh muscle, young Earl Buchholz of St. Louis was eliminated today from the Victorian Tennis Championships by Neale Fraser, 6-3, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3.

Chris Crawford of Piedmont, Calif., also was put out in the third round by top-seeded Ashley Cooper, 3-6, 6-0, 6-1, 6-2, but Barry Mac Kay and Alex Olmedo salvaged some American prestige by battling their way into the quarterfinals.

MacKay, of Dayton, Ohio, beat Bob Howe in straight sets 6-4, 6-4, 13-11 and Olmedo came from behind after losing the first two sets to beat Warren Woodcock, 5-7, 6-8, 6-3, 6-2.

Grinnell Downs Ripon, 70 to 61

Grinnell, Iowa —(AP)—John Copeland led a rally with seven straight points in the second half to pace Grinnell to a 70-61 victory over Ripon in a Midwest conference basketball game Friday night.

Copeland topped the scoring with 15 points.

Pete Kasson was high for Ripon with 16 points.

Andy Polisky Makes 14 Free Throws in Girls' Cage Game

W. L. H. HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS CAGE LEAGUE

The Falcons meet the Bombers and the Capitalists tonight with the Dots in next Wednesday's YMCA High School Girls Basketball league action.

The Rockets tripped the Falcons, 30-18, in latest action as Dorothy Schmidt hit 10 points for the winners. Andy Polisky hit 14 for the losers, all on free throws.

The Bombers shamed the Capitalists, 21-15, as Janice Brown scored nine points for the winners. Lynn Kellogg hit six for the Capitalists.

Wrong Season, Coach!

Elk Mountain, Wyo. —(AP)—High school Coach Frank Bonds stormed into the team dressing room after a sloppy practice session.

"Fellas, if we're going to win ball games, you've got to think football, eat football, sleep football," Bonds proclaimed.

One player looked up. "But coach, this is basketball," he said.

Pearl Harbor

Attack Anniversary Is Civil Defense Day

National Civil Defense day will be observed for the first time on Sunday, Dec. 7.

No special observation or activities have been planned by local civil defense officials in the Fox Cities.

Throughout the United States and its territories, Americans have been asked by Leo A. Hoegh, Director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, to analyze what they have done toward building an effective civil defense.

Civil Defense day also is the seventeenth anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Gov. Hoegh said Americans' first step toward being informed on civil defense actions is to obtain and carry the OCDM preparedness card. It is available from any civil defense office or from national headquarters at Battle Creek, Mich.

The card urges Americans to take these basic steps toward protection and survival in event of attack.

Prepare a family shelter and equip it with a 2-week supply of food and water, plus such essentials as a first aid kit and battery-operated radio.

Learn warning signals and what they mean, the community plan for emergency action, protection from radioactive fallout, first aid and home emergency preparedness, and the use of Conelrad for emergency radio information (640 and 1240 on the dial.)

Nationwide distribution of wallet card to school children was made by Girl Scout councils throughout the country.

Special radio and television programs, newspaper stories and editorials, and sermons will alert the nation to Civil Defense days. There will be two national television network programs on Pearl Harbor—one on CBS and one on NBC.

UW Seeks to Stop Rice's Fast Break

Houston, Tex. —(AP)—The Wisconsin basketball team will try again tonight to stop a fast-break offense when it tangles with Rice. Both schools are seeking their first victory of the season.

The Badgers were defeated in Madison Tuesday night when their good defense slowed but did not stop the fast break of Marquette. The Owls were beaten, 65-49, by Kansas in their first start.

The game is the second meeting of Wisconsin and Rice, the Badgers winning, 67-62, last year at Madison. Coach "Bud" Foster has not announced a starting lineup and has indicated his reserves will see more action, especially Jim Briggs, Rick Murray and Bon Rossin.

SHE HAS HER HANDS FULL...
FULL OF VALUES!

TODAY'S FOOD SHOPPER gets more value than ever before. Supplying her needs and satisfying her love of values is a big job. Yet our food distribution business does it daily.

This year an important segment of the industry marks a milestone. The National Association of Food Chains celebrates its 25th year as a vital link between producer and consumer.

Your daily newspaper hails the NAFC for its contribution to our high standard of living.

Through better methods of warehousing and marketing, the NAFC's members and other food firms offer shoppers the highest values consistent with costs.

Food retailers invest 80 to 90% of their advertising budgets in the daily newspaper. They know that the newspaper, with all its food news and its advertising effectiveness, is a vital link to you, their valued customer.

The total selling medium is the daily newspaper

Mares' Agency Offers 'Planalysis': Summary of Insurance Needs

Planalysis is basically this, Mares explains: A business-like audit showing at a glance what protection the readers have, how much it costs, whether readers are under or over-insured. Planalysis tells readers what risks they are protected against, whether there are duplications on any coverages, and whether readers are getting the most for their insurance dollar. Mares' Insurance Agency will examine policies now in force and present readers a completed Planalysis that they may examine and study point-by-point. Mares' Insurance Agency was started in 1953 by Pat Mare. The firm writes all readers how broad their coverage and how many types insurance are available, the company has the insurance policy on Wisconsin's only elephant.

Mares' Insurance Agency writes insurance for the following companies: Northwestern Mutual Life, Shelby Mutual, Employers Mutual Casualty, Integrity Mutuals, Maryland Casualty, Glen Falls Insurance, Germantown Mutual, Central Mutual, Kewaskum Mutual, American Citizens, Dairyman's, Illinois Mutual, Manitowoc, Campbellsport, Western Surety, Hartland Cicero, Cicero and Foremost.

Mares' Insurance Agency is located at 630 W. Wisconsin avenue in the Hahn building. Phone number of the firm is RE 9-1111. The office of the firm is open six days a week. Two office girls handle customers' calls and problems speedily. Main features of the firm are 24-hour service and nation-wide companies that are listed in the Open House will be held tomorrow (Sunday, December 7) at the Memorial Drive Florists, Menasha road, Appleton from 1 to 4 p.m., according to word received by the firm. A huge display of poinsettias and other beautiful blooming plants will be featured, as well as a complete line of Christmas decorative materials for inside and outside the home. Shown above are the office and display room of the firm, whose phone number is RE 3-4678.

The firm advised readers to order their flowers and holiday decorations early to get the best selection. Items in good supply at the present include poinsettia plants, Christmas wreaths, fresh holly sprays, mantelpieces, table centerpieces and cut flowers. Memorial Drive florists said Friday.

Shutters Add the final decorative touch to this Colonial kitchen designed by Elinor Anderson of Fraser Lumber company for Mrs. Nancy Hutchison, 424 E. Circle street. Folding louver doors and matching wallpaper and drapery material are other decorative notes.

A Window Seat in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kermeth Kriek, 807 W. Oklahoma street, is given a dramatic touch through the use of shutters, which balance the area and add to the charming overall decor of the room.

Elinor Anderson, decorating consultant for the Fraser Lumber Co. Inc., 501 N. Superior street, finds the use of shutters and louver doors either lends itself to the mood of a room or establishes the mood. In any room or area, these sources create a new look—a fresh, unique atmosphere with a dual purpose: useful service and individual distinction.

Louvered products, she advises, are usable virtually anywhere from kitchen to library, from farm home to executive suite. Very often, they add the final dramatic touch to a redecorating or remodeling job, and often prove to be the fashionable problem-solver for antiquated and unusual windows, archways and door-swing areas. They have become a beautiful,

"Do Your Laundry While You Do Your Shopping" is the motto at Coin-O-Matic Do-It-Yourself Laundry, of 204 W. Wisconsin avenue, Appleton, directly across from Krambo's northside store. 20 Speed Queen washers and four king-size dryers make washing and drying a matter of minutes, the firm explained. All machines are fully automatic; the washers take about 20 minutes to do an 8-pound load. Customers may use as many washers at a time as they need. Washing costs 20c per 8-pound load and drying is 10c for 10 minutes. The Coin-O-Matic Do-It-Yourself laundry is open 24 hours daily, seven days a week. Free parking is available in the firm's parking lot.

Doing Business In A New Location—since last Monday are Jerry and Bill Lyman, above, of Jerry's Shoe Service, of 123 N. Appleton street. The firm moved over the weekend from its former quarters in the John Bolliet Hotel to the present site, directly across from Prange's Toy store. The new quarters are the former site of Kimball's hardware. Twice the size of the former location, the new store provides space for greatly increased shoe service facilities as well as a new children's shoe department and new lines of work, dress and children's shoes.

Included in the newly added lines of shoes now handled by Jerry's Shoe Service are Proudfoot shoes for boys by Weinbrenner, famous shoe company in sizes 4 to 12 at $5.45; 12 1/2 to 3, at $5.95; and 3 to 6, at $7.95. Dress shoes for men in the latest styles by famous makers are priced at the firm's names of Fin and Feather by from $8.95 to $1.95 and in-Chippewa; Winnebago, Tru-clude many styles of oxfords, Fil and Thorogood. Readers were invited by the firm at its former ad- new location and see first- dress, have been expanded in- hand the many improvements in scope. Starting from $6.95 and that have taken place.

Tickets for Free Rides on Valley Fair's Christmas sleigh are available to all adults for the enjoyment of their kiddies through the Marshall Wells store at Valley Fair, it was announced. Due to the popularity of this exciting free feature, rides around the center will be continued to be offered daily through December 13. Santa's pony-drawn sleigh operates from 4 to 8 p.m. daily and on Saturdays from 12 noon to 8 p.m.

Sleighbells are jingling, Christmas decorations are glowing and Santa has prepared Marshall Wells at Valley Fair with everything to satisfy the most demanding gift list.

All of the Marshall Wells departments—from toys to sporting goods—housewares, appliances, furniture and television—are bulging over with gift items to make shopping a simple, pleasurable experience. All department managers and extra clerks are on hand to help shoppers make this the merriest Christmas ever.

"Your credit is good ... use it here," a Marshall Wells policy, eliminates the worries of shoppers whose budgets are strained with the Christmas shopping needs. Throughout the store, Marshall-Wells customers will find numerous special values which mean extra savings and help them to stretch their Christmas shopping dollars.

Art Linkletter, Television performer, casts an approving eye on the young man who put him in the ranks of Hollywood grandfathers Oct. 6. Holding baby Mike is his mother, the wife of Jack Linkletter, who like his father is a TV emcee.

Here, French Screen Actress Leslie Caron holds her daughter Jennifer at a London nursing home when the baby was 8 days old. Miss Caron and her husband, British producer Peter Hall, also have a 17-month-old son.

A Nurse Holds Jaime Lorne MacDougall, the first child of television star Nanette Fabray and her husband, Ronald MacDougall. The baby boy weighed 10 pounds, 1 1/2 ounces at birth Sept. 29 at Cedars of Lebanon hospital in Hollywood.

Three-Month-Old Matthew Wells Hall poses with his mother, actress Diana Lynn, in the family's Hollywood home. His father is radio executive Mortimer Hall. Matthew is the couple's first child.

Movie and Television Actor John Agar and his wife, Loretta, show off their newly adopted son, Martin David, in Fort Worth, Texas. Final papers made the boy all their own this month.

Actress Shirley Jones Poses with her son at Santa Monica, Calif. The baby, born in October, was named Shaun Paul Cassidy. His father is singer Jack Cassidy.

Tim McCoy, 67, Finds Niche in Circus World

Western Star of Old Days Really Knows His Stuff

By Bob Thomas

Hollywood — "I know I could do pictures again, but I also know I could never convince the producers of that. So I've found another field for myself — the circus."

This was the realistic view of Tim McCoy, Hollywood's only authentic western star. He's a colonel, but not the Kentucky kind. Before coming to Hollywood in 1922, he actually served with the army among the Indians in western America.

McCoy is 67, looks 40, and could outdraw and outride most of the younger cowpokes on the TV range.

Tim was one of MGM's brightest stars (one of his leading ladies was Joan Crawford), later made western series for Columbia and Monogram.

Retired Once

"I walked out of Monogram to go into the army during handle a 6-shooter. At 67, the war," he said. "When I came back, everyone had forgotten me. I decided I wasn't going to fight them. So I got working with the cavalry and a place in Bucks county, Pa. Indians, but it never occurred and decided I would retire." to him to ask me if he was met and married Inga Arvad. Then came an offer to go to a magazine beauty edi- with the Carson-Barnes cir- and once a Hollywood cer- cus. Tim had toured three respondent. When they years with the Ringling the first of their two sons, Brother-Barnum and Bailey. Tim decided to come back to but didn't think he wanted to Hollywood and brave the new go back under the big top. adventure of television. His wife persuaded him to

of a local show in which he demonstrated his vast knowl- edge of western lore. He even won an Emmy from the Tele- vision academy. "That was the kiss ofers. I have a 40-foot trailer. I death," he sighed. "Three finish a show at night, go up to months later, I was without sleep in the trailer, get up in a sponsor."

Films Uninterested
Films beckoned him but car. Then I drive to the next only briefly. He did a Cameo town, have breakfast in a res- appearance in "Around the taurant and go to the circus World in 80 Days" and a 1- grounds, where my trailer is day vignette in an RKO west- waiting for me. Then I get era — "The director was ready for the matinee."
